Marcos Says Summit Would Be Fruitless Without Agreement

By STANLEY M. SWINTON
MANILA (AP) — Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos called today for a foreign ministers' meeting to seek a way to end Asia's other war, the Indonesian-Malaysian "confrontation."

Marcos proposed a meeting of the foreign ministers of Malaysia, Indonesia, the Philippines and other Asian countries if they are interested.

He said it would be fruitless for himself, President Sukarno of Indonesia and Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman of Malaysia to hold a summit session unless the foreign ministers could find a basis for agreement.

Recognition Imminent

Marcos said Philippine recognition of Malaysia is imminent.

Estes Testifies In Hearing on Trial Request

Faces Examination
On Monday Claims

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Billie Sol Estes faces cross-examination today over statements that loan companies, plus scores of individuals, had plotted with him to deal in worthless mortgages involving millions.

Estes, onetime whiz kid of farm finance, spied off one name after another Monday of firms and people he accused of agreeing secretly to such transactions.

Almost before court recessed for the evening, spokesmen for a number of finance corporations disputed Estes' recital.

He finished direct testimony just before the end of the first day of a hearing on his motion for a new trial, leaving cross-examination by government counsel for today.

Broke Silence

Taking the stand for only the second time in three criminal trials, the West Texas promoter broke four years of silence on transactions in mortgages on mythical fertilizer tanks, in an effort to win release from the Leavenworth, Kan., federal prison.

He has served about 15 months of a 15-year term for mail fraud and conspiracy.

Estes, now 41 and almost skinny in contrast to his former plumpness, was brought here under guard to appear before U.S. Dist. Judge Leo Brewster.

Estes and his lawyers contend his mail fraud and conspiracy conviction should be wiped out because, they say, a government witness lied at Estes' trial here three years ago, and also that knowledge of all parties that there were no fertilizer tanks to secure mortgages on hundreds of them made fraud impossible.

Braves Decision Due Wednesday

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Circuit Judge Elmer Roller said at noon today that his decision in Wisconsin's antitrust suit against baseball might not be made public until Wednesday morning.

Roller, putting the finishing touches on his ruling, said he expected the bulky decision to be written, reproduced and bound by late afternoon today but he added he would not make its contents public until after counsel in the case had received copies.

He indicated he had not decided whether to mail the decision or have representatives of the legal offices concerned stop at his chambers to get copies.

Rusk Disputes DeGaulle Claim On NATO Pact

Secretary Says Withdrawal Hits at Agreement's Heart

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk has sharply disputed French President Charles de Gaulle's argument that France can properly end its military agreements with the United States because they are out of date.

Rusk says this thesis "strikes at the very heart of the sanctity of international agreements."

The comments, in an interview granted last week to the French magazine Paris-Match, were released by the State Department today as the United States replied to De Gaulle's demand for removal of American military installations from French soil.

Delivery of the note, reported by reliable sources here to make such the same points in more diplomatic style, was arranged for today in Paris.

"The United States has more than 4,000 agreements with other nations," Rusk told the magazine. "We are concerned about actions which would weaken the growing fabric of international law."

The interview contained some

Inmates Riot At Reformatory In Maryland

BREATHESVILLE, Md. (AP) — A riot by about 400 prisoners at the Maryland Reformatory for Men was brought under control about 7:30 a.m. today but reports from the scene indicate the situation is still explosive.

Warden Trenton L. Fitzburger said he had no idea of the grievances of the men, who began rioting in the dining hall about 5:30 a.m., before a number of them barricaded themselves in a cell block.

Two prisoners and several guards were taken to Washington County Memorial Hospital in nearby Hagerstown, but none of the injuries were believed to be serious.

Fitzburger ordered that feeding be resumed after about half of the 400 returned to their cells. He conferred with prisoners before making his statement about grievances.

Approximately 40 Maryland state troopers, several sheriff's deputies and the prison staff stopped the rioting.

53,000 Workers Strike

Coal Miners Ignore Back-to-Work Rule

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Most of the striking miners in the soft coal fields stayed away from their jobs today despite a union back-to-work order.

But there was one tiny crack in the work stoppage. Some 190 miners went back to the Thundervolt Collieries near Shelby, Ind.

And in Ohio a continued shutdown of the mines was blamed chiefly on delay in receipt of the back-to-work order issued by officials of the United Mine Workers Union.

Elsewhere, a number of locals called meetings to discuss the walkout.

About 53,000 miners in nine states were on strike in the biggest walkout in the soft coal fields since 1950.

Started Monday

The strike started early Monday over the failure of the union and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association to reach agreement on a new contract in Washington.

Telegrams signed by Union President W. A. (Tony) Boyle and other union officers went out Monday to all union districts ordering the strikers back to work.

Last Friday, Boyle said the union considered itself "at liberty to strike at any time" because the union had no contract with the association.

Officials Huddle

With the strike under way, union officials huddled in Washington before the back-to-work directive was issued.

Later, Boyle met with president Edward G. Fox of the coal association after a meeting of the association's five-man executive committee.

South Viet Nam Junta Pledges Election Soon

B52s Strike North for First Time

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Air Force B52s struck North Viet Nam for the first time today, raining hundreds of tons of explosives on a strategic mountain pass. A spokesman said it was one of the largest B52 raids of the war.

While the United States escalated the air war against the north, a Viet Cong battalion mauled an American rifle company in the heavy jungles 40 miles east of Saigon. An Army spokesman reported heavy casualties, indicating perhaps a third or more of the GIs were killed or wounded. A rifle company at full strength has 178 men.

Savage Assault

The 1st Infantry Division men were savagely assaulted from all sides while on a multibridge search — Operation Abilene — in thick jungle where the Communists have held out since the days of French rule.

They were hit with mortars, recoilless rifles and small arms fire after part of the infantry probe killed five members of a Viet Cong platoon in a brisk fight.

The battle Monday night lasted five hours. Helicopters were unable to bring out the dead and wounded until engineers chopped clearings in the forest today.

The eight-engine bombers went north after more than 200 raids on Viet Cong targets below the 17th Parallel. They hammered at the Mu Gia Pass, a funnel for men and arms to the south.

No Assessment

A U.S. spokesman did not give an assessment of damage or the number of planes involved, but they probably dropped a half million pounds of bombs or more on their target.

Other Air Force and Navy planes flew a total of 36 missions against the Communist north Monday, hitting storage areas, railroad facilities, bridges and shipping.

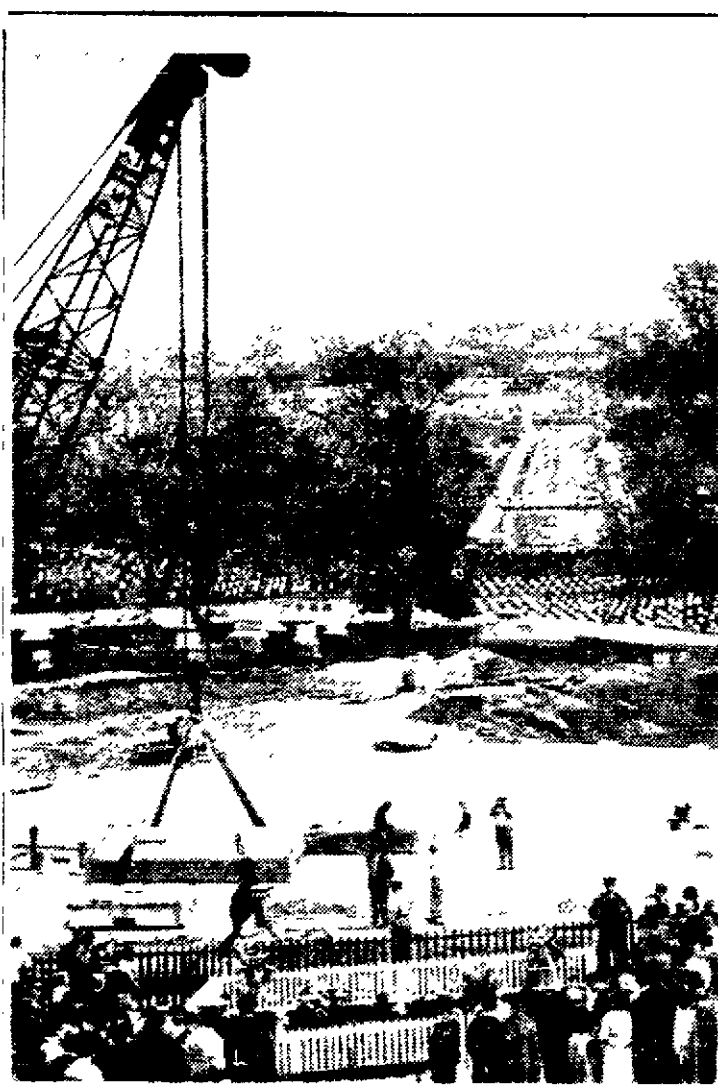

Navy pilots reported destroying 13 junks and damaging 13 more, wrecking 13 boxcars and smashing 6 warehouses and 8 trucks within a 36-mile radius of Vinh.

Air Force jets roared over the Dien Bien Phu area, in northwestern North Viet Nam, as well as Vinh. Pilots reported destroying three storage buildings near Son La, 54 miles east of Dien Bien Phu, four more in a staging zone 45 miles to the east, and setting four more aflame nearby. They also said they destroyed 20 buildings and damaged five at Bung Cha, 74 miles southwest of Vinh, and damaged three roads and a pontoon bridge.

No Explanation

The U.S. spokesman did not explain why the decision had been made to send the Guam-based bombers north. But it is known the U.S. Military Command is highly pleased with the saturation bombings in the south, both as a military weapon.

Buddhists Cold-Shoulder Preparatory Congress On Writing Constitution

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam's military government pledged today to hold elections as soon as a constitution is drafted and the election machinery set up. But the Buddhist opposition cold-shouldered the preparatory congress at which the offer was made.

Addressing an assemblage of representatives the junta had convened from throughout the nation to start progress toward civilian rule, the chief of state, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, declared the ruling generals want to turn over power to civilians "in the shortest time possible."

Informed Vietnamese sources said this could be within a month or two depending on how long it takes to write a constitution and create the election machinery.

Suggest Formula

With Premier Nguyen Cao Ky and four other members of the 10-man ruling directorate attending, Thieu suggested a possible formula for a National Assembly: half of the members could be elected, the others appointed from the provinces.

The Buddhist leadership underscored its boycott of the congress by demanding that "the U.S. government at once end its support for the Thieu-Ky militarist clique." A communique issued by the Unified Buddhist

Church in the name of Buddhists in the army's northernmost 1st Corps area charged that the junta intended to wage "a civil war with U.S. backing" to hang onto power.

The government, however, completed the withdrawal of 1,500 Vietnamese marines it had sent to Da Nang last week in U.S. Air Force transports to

Crash Fatal To Policeman

Milwaukee Dies
Of Injuries in Oshkosh Accident

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Richard C. Eberhardt, 24-year-old Milwaukee policeman, died today at Mercy Hospital in Oshkosh of head injuries suffered early Monday when his car overturned five times. The accident happened after the small foreign car struck a median strip on Highway 41 about three miles south of Oshkosh.

George Frank Brom, 69, Chicago, Ill., was struck by a pickup truck Monday evening as he crossed U.S. 18 at an intersection west of the Milwaukee suburb of Brookfield. He died an hour later in a Waukesha hospital.

Brom was superintendent of passenger service in Chicago for the Chicago & North Western Railway.

Ukrainian Immolates Self in Russia

MOSCOW (AP) — A young truckdriver from the Ukraine burned himself to death in a central Moscow square after Soviet authorities would not let him fight in Viet Nam, Russian sources said today.

The sources said Nikolai Didyk, 26, poured gasoline on his head about 8 p.m. last Thursday in front of a big children's store, set himself aflame, and ran into the street with his arms spread wide, stopping traffic.

They reported Didyk's wife said he had been "obsessed with the war in Viet Nam."

The sources said Didyk's immolation occurred in Dzerzhinsk Square, in view of Lubianka Prison, headquarters of the Soviet secret police. They reported passersby seized the young man, put the fire out and called an ambulance.

The sources said he died Sunday in Burdenko military hospital.

Little They Can Do About It

Viet Nam Political Scene Frustrates U.S. Officials

AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Frustrated American officials see little they can do about the political violence in South Viet Nam except to ride out the storm and hope for the best.

Some talk has cropped up here, attributed to angry military men who want to get on with the war, that if order cannot be restored soon by quarrelsome political factions, then the United States will be faced with a choice between taking control of the political situation or pulling out of the country.

State and Defense Department authorities deny emphatically that any such extreme courses are under consideration.

Deeply Worried

Behind the public posture of calm confidence, however, officials are deeply worried about the consequences of continued turmoil on military operations and on prolonging the Vietnamese war.

There is concern here about the anti-Americanism and complaints of war-weariness which emerge in the demonstrations and the possibilities for exploitation of trouble by Communist agents in the crisis centers.

But U.S. officials describe as heartening the fact that Buddhist and other powerful political forces in South Viet Nam are reported to be strongly anti-Communist.

U.S. policy on the political crisis is defined as one of giving advice but not trying to dictate or impose a solution.

Mail Order Companies

State Supreme Court Upholds Insurance Law

MADISON (AP) — The Wisconsin Supreme Court upheld today the validity of a 1961 state law regulating mail order insurance companies licensed in another state.

The decision affirmed a ruling by Circuit Judge Norris Maloney of Dane County subjecting Ministers Life and Casualty Union of Minneapolis to Wisconsin insurance standards and taxation.

Justice Myron Gordon cast the lone dissent in the high court's 6-1 decision. Gordon disagreed with the court's contention that Wisconsin interests could transcend federal authority to regulate interstate business.

McCarran Act

Justice E. Harold Hallows, who wrote the majority opinion, said passage of the 1959 McCarran Act assured the regulatory authority of states despite interstate commerce and government supremacy clauses in the U.S. Constitution.

"This act left to the states the regulation and taxation of insurance, stating such continual regulation was in the public interest and that silence on the part of Congress should not be construed to impose any barrier to state regulation or taxation," Hallows said, adding:

"It has been said the act merely rendered unto Caesar the things which belong to Caesar."

Ministers issues four kinds of insurance—group life, individual life, franchised—group accident and health, and individual accident and health.

Not Insignificant

"The business done by Ministers is not insignificant, although compared with large stock companies it would hardly be considered impressive," the court said.

A charming new sheer confection that looks fragile, but actually is very practical, is a crib puff decorated with delightful animals.

This baby cover, which is completely washable, will come out the very puffiest if put into an automatic dryer rather than hung. This principle applies to any quilt — especially those with widely spaced stitching.

Delicate Care for Support Hosiery

Patterned textures and a wide range of colors are making the newest support hosiery more undetectable than ever.

Because they serve both a health and a decorative purpose, support stockings are priced somewhat higher than regular nylons. This makes it advisable to give them super-care — including gentle washing in warm soap or detergent suds after each wearing.

Decorating Clinics

Window Shades Achieving New Decorating Importance

What used to be the ugly duckling of the decorating world, tolerated only for the sake of filtering sunlight in the day and giving privacy at night, has become the fairy godmother of room decor. Tom Underhill, speaking on the use of window shades in decorating, is a design consultant for Breneman, Inc., Chicago, Ill. Mr. Underhill has conducted workshops at H. C. Prange Co. Monday and today at 7:45 p.m. today will present a clinic at the YMCA.

Fabric, color and mood are three of the many things that have happened to window shades in the last few years.

Use of Fabric. Fabrics from fine embroidered lawns to deeply textured lines are making the use of window shades an integral part of the decorating scheme. They are waterproof, washable and colorfast. In addition to this, almost any kind of fabric except silk and certain celanese types can be laminated, permitting the shade to repeat fabrics already put to other use in a room.

Mr. Underhill says of color that about the only rule is that there are no rules. Color is simply what a family wants to say about itself and the way it lives. People respond to color, and no one spends more time with it than the homemaker herself. Some women have temperaments that are happier with cool than warm colors, and this should be a determining factor in whether one wants blues, blue-greens, greens and violets, or the warmer sun-colors of red, orange and yellow.

Color becomes part of the personality of a room, camouflaging proportion defects and giving a sense of perennial sunshine. Red takes the chill off a white walled room and is perfect with red carpeting. Yellow shades completely change the climate of a dark north room.

Tom Underhill

Study in Nature. To properly understand colors, Mr. Underhill recommends that a person about to decorate study the blues and violets in delphiniums, noting the deep green of the leaves, or suggests evaluating the same blues and violets in a bunch of anemones, noting the light green of the stems and the black centers.

Considering these as accent colors. If choosing the warm shades, he suggests studying a bouquet of zinnias, a blazing hearth fire, a grove of maple trees in autumn or yellow and bronze chrysanthemums. Once a person knows his favorite color and understands it, he loses his timidity and with it, his color problems.

Mood is the other and perhaps most important variation in the window shade of today and tomorrow. While much of what is done is determined by the shape of the window and the room to be decorated, there is bringing to life furnishings of which one is tired.

Imaginative Dash

Like the flavor of sage? Add this herb to a meat loaf; you can mix about a teaspoon of ground sage into a meat mixture that is made up of two pounds of ground beef and half a pound of ground pork.

The vital and aggressive colors make sofas and chairs appear larger. On walls, they create the illusion of less size. At the windows, yellow shades are now designed in baroque, classic, empire, Roman, and many other designs. They are made to suit the furnishings, to blend, to enhance, to complement. They take the fabrics of the room and repeat them, sometimes in two shades, one patterned and the other a solid color.

Mr. Underhill, says that the new popularity of tieback draperies has brought the shade into a prominent decorating position. This style of drapery exposes the window in a more or less permanent way, and, for privacy, the shade is essential. In her parents' color, it is dramatic and important.

The laminated shade now permits almost any window to be used 'as is'. A bit of braid softens the frame and permits windows to be used as part of the architecture. Uncovering the frame brings the window shade into new perspective in the decorating scheme.

The Ailing House Oil Should Be Blotted From Wood

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN
 Q. There is a dark spot on our mantel, resulting from using a soft, clay-like adhesive which doesn't harden. When finished with our job, I removed all the adhesive I could. But a little lingers, along with a dark spot in the wood. What will remove the spot?
 A. The oil in the adhesive has worked into the wood. So now you have to blot it out. First, see if you can't wipe it clean by using regular cleaning fluid. If it's penetrated too deeply for that, make a paste of powdered chalk, corn meal, or any absorbent powder, mixed with cleaning fluid. Spread this thickly on the stain, let it dry. As it dries, brush off the discolored paste and repeat. The principle is that the cleaning fluid soaks in and loosens the oil, and the powder blots it out. Probably quite a few repeats needed before the spot disappears.
 Q. My two scouting boys would like to camp out in an old tent, which has certainly seen better days. They reported that after one rain, it leaked like a sieve. Is there any way they can waterproof this old canvas?
 A. There are several ways. Simplest is just to cover the entire tent by laying over it a sheet of heavy builder's polyethylene plastic, making a tent over a tent. Here's a formula for waterproofing the canvas itself. Coat the tent with a solution made of a pound of paraffin shaved in small pieces and dissolved in a gallon of turpentine. Heat the turpentine by placing it in a container standing in a pail of hot water (never heat turps over an open flame!) apply this solution generously to the canvas when it's thoroughly dry.

Improve Gas Mileage With Careful Habits

You can make your gasoline money take your farther, and the secret is in your hands, states an article in a monthly magazine. In the many miles a week that your dozens of errands-by-auto take you, the homemaker can control your driving conditions and change them.
 If you aren't satisfied with the mileage you've been getting from your car, you should realize that many of the important factors involved in squeezing the last fraction of a mile from each gallon of fuel are concentrated in whether you are driving your vehicle correctly, and maintaining it properly for economy.
 If your car is in the best mechanical condition your ability as a driver should count most toward your car's economical performance. In fact, the motorist's skill has been assessed by one automotive specialist as the "most important single controllable factor in driving economy."
 Skillful economical driving means doing the right things, avoiding the common blunders that cause the engine to waste fuel. Allowing it to idle needlessly, for example, will cost you about half a gallon of gasoline per accumulated hour.
 According to the magazine, these other contributors to wasteful driving should be born in mind: jack-rabbit getaways; dithering about in traffic; pumping the accelerator to force the engine into a cold start; nervous pushes on the gas pedal while waiting for a signal light to change; racing up hills, and riding the brakes coming down; erratic speeds, and extended periods in the lower gears.
 Professional economy drivers know that it's the evenness of driving that gives good mileage. On the open road or in congested areas, regardless of hills, curves, or traffic, the specialists maintain the steady-possible speed by driving in such a way that they have to use their brakes as little as possible. They hold stops, starts, and gearshifting to a minimum, smoothing them out by watching the road ahead and anticipating, well in advance, any necessary change in pace.
 Automotive-economy specialists consider these the nine most common mechanical causes of poor gas mileage:

1. Ignition failure; carburetor trouble; wrong fuel; soft tires; dragging brakes, or overtight wheel bearings; poor compression; stuck thermostat (in cooling system) or stuck manifold heat valve; too-thick motor oil; poor front wheel alignment.
 2. From the standpoint of fuel consumption, American cars come in three categories: Big cars, low-price cars, and compact cars. A low-price car will give you 20 miles per gallon, and you can count on about 15 miles per gallon from a big car. The motoring On the other hand, if possible to drive under truly congested areas, where you ideal conditions. However, you must stop or slow down every three quarters of the so-called "ideal" mileage for your type mileage.

Little Homemaking Deceptions Add Up to Contented Spouses

NEW YORK, N. Y. — Among all the things she is, the American homemaker is probably the world's liveliest "liar." To keep her home humming smoothly she has become a master in the art of deception. And she's been clever enough to keep her tricks of the trade hidden from her mate.
 Busy married ladies soon learn to exchange time-wasting foolishness for time-saving "fooleries" and in the domestic arena, where she shines, she has learned to make things seem to be what they're not. Here are a couple of truth-nudging secrets that she would do well to keep from her spouse.
 For Coffee Fans
 How many husbands are chronic coffee complainers swear they can tell "instant" from the "real thing" and get into a veritable lather about it? If yours is of this stripe, some night soon make instant coffee in a pot and pour it into an elegant carafe. If your husband gives it lip-smacking approval (and chances are he will) you know you've fooled him. Remember diplomatically silent by all means. Of course there are men who really can tell the difference and if you're married to that breed, don't push your luck. Simply make him the best coffee ever by brewing it in a stainless steel coffeemaker where oils and other residues can't spoil the taste. These appliances, which come in drip, perk and vacuum styles, clean easily and their good looks add elegance to your table.
 If your spouse always harks back to his mom's cooking, and what husband doesn't even if his memories of it are pretty vague, he will always be after

It's not a good idea to add curry powder to eggs that are to be scrambled because the combination usually turns out to have an unappetizing color. If you must have curry flavor with your eggs, add a little of the powder to the filling for stuffed eggs.

Observe these suggestions when you put meat in your freezer: wrap tightly, label carefully, thaw in refrigerator and cook as soon as possible after thawing.

Make a note on your freezer memo pad that fresh pork should be kept no longer than three to four months, beef no longer than six to eight months.

Rinse golden colored raisins in hot water, then drain, let them stand in a little orange juice to "plump." Add the raisins to cooked prunes for taste and color contrast.

Climate Won't Alter Any Game

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

"When I moved from Los Angeles to Chicago I discovered something about playing bridge in a different climate," Erik Paulsen remarked at the recent national tournament. "You have to wear an overcoat to get to and from the game, but once you're at the table bridge is exactly the same."

To prove his revolutionary discovery Paulsen showed a hand from the national team championship. After East's weak two-bid in diamonds, Paulsen got to game in spades. West held the first trick with the queen of diamonds and led another diamond to the king. East then shifted to the deuce of clubs.

South had already lost two tricks and had a heart and a trump to worry about. Paulsen did not worry because he had learned in Los Angeles that the opponents cannot defeat four spades if you take ten tricks.

Paulsen took the king of clubs, led a club to dummy's ace and ruffed a club. He cashed the ace and king of hearts (refusing to finesse) and led the last club from dummy.

Home Free
East could gain nothing by ruffing with his low trump, so he discarded a diamond. Paulsen ruffed with a second low trump and led his last diamond. This time it was West who could not gain by ruffing. West discarded his last heart, and Paulsen ruffed in dummy. By this time Paulsen had seven tricks safely stashed away and could take the three top trumps to make sure of his contract.

It was deceptively simple. At the other table of the match declarer tried the heart finesse and later misquessed the trumps, losing a trump, a heart and two diamonds. No matter where you live you can't make four spades if you let the opponents take four tricks.

Daily Question
Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes. You hold: S Q 10 7, H K J 6 3, D J 4, C A 8 5 4. What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two clubs. You have 11 points in high cards and 1 point for the doubleton, too much for a raise to two spades but not enough for a jump to three spades. Show your side suit and raise spades later. Show the clubs rather than the hearts, because a response of two hearts should guarantee a five-card suit.

Help Car Dealers Do Spring Cleaning

Spring cleaning isn't just the job of diligent housewives. Car dealers do it, too.

In spring they make a special effort to clear their lots and showrooms for the arrival of next year's models. Their buyers on used cars are especially good.

It takes more than an ideal shopping season, though, to get a dependable used car. Several other principles apply:

Think first and save some shoe leather. Daydream about the car you'd like, being specific about make, model, and equipment. It's a good idea to avoid a used car overloaded with extras; repair bills can skyrocket if they get out of commission. It's advisable, too, to stay within the three-year limit. Often, cars older than three years start having problems disproportionate to their years.

Choose Popular Models
Most women prefer compact cars that are lively, long on mileage, and easy to maneuver. Choosing a popular model makes it easy to get replacement parts.

Top off your thinking process by reading the classified ads. They'll give you a good idea of what kind of car is going for what average price. As you shop, you can compare the offers you get with the facts from your market research.

Shop the most reputable dealer. It's wise to avoid a private sale unless you're really sure of the car and the owner. By going one side or the other, "Yes" to before you buy.

Double check. Before you sign the final papers, get an impartial professional opinion of the car — from a mechanic you know and trust or, better yet, from an automotive diagnostic lane operated by such companies as American Oil. At a diagnostic lane, machines, not people, will examine the car and tell you precisely what condition it's in.

Check the oil. If it's molasses-thick, watery, or laced with gasoline, it can indicate serious engine trouble.

Be sure the brakes are firm and, as a last test, gun the motor to see if any blue smoke comes from the exhaust. Blue smoke usually shows the need for new piston rings, a costly apron.

Folded, this towel is used as a pot holder; spread open, it dries a dish or wipes off a bottle. The rule is to exchange it for a car clean one the very moment the car begins to get soiled.

Doctor Tells Symptoms Of Histoplasmosis

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

"flu" occurs it's time to suspect that it isn't influenza. Histoplasmosis? Let's not try to guess at something that it histoplasmosis that is often mistaken for flu. Is it only a children's disease? Please give the full symptoms.

My sister-in-law has had the flu one case after another. After a time in bed she gets up and then comes down with the flu again in spite of vaccinations and pills. She has had a blood test but it shows nothing wrong — Mrs. L.G.

When attack after attack of

think it is a fungus infection, the fungus being Histoplasma capsulatum, which flourishes in such places as dusty playgrounds at times.

Children are particularly susceptible but others can pick up the fungus. Infection can resemble many things with signs of anemia, lymph gland involvement or others. Acute infection often simulates a virus attack. Chronic infection, when it affects the lungs, can look so much like tuberculosis as to defy positive identification by X-ray.

Skin tests — tuberculin for TB and a histoplasmin for the fungus — pin down the correct diagnosis.

Please don't let my references to histoplasmosis, then or now, put too much emphasis on that disease. To be sure, it doubtless is more common than once was thought, but there are a great many other conditions which can resemble "flu" or a virus infection and when respiratory ailments keep happening continually it is time to take a closer look at the patient.

symptoms develop (weakness, muscle cramps, constipation, loss of appetite) it is simple to give a potassium supplement to take care of the matter. This can be in tablet form or quite recently, in the form of a quite tasty drink made by dissolving a potassium containing wafer in water.

Dear Dr. Molner: My son is 24 and takes thyroid pills — an extra grain a day (4 grains) because he is overweight. Could the larger dose cause insomnia and nervousness? How often should he be checked? He has an enormous appetite and eats continually. — Mrs. F.W.

When a person's thyroid is underactive taking thyroid can put him in proper metabolic balance so he can make some progress in reducing — but the thyroid won't do it all. He still has to learn to regulate his appetite.

For the size dose he is taking he should be checked four or five times a year. Yes, the thyroid could be a factor in nervousness and insomnia and his doctor should be told about these symptoms as well as about that extra grain. Taking sodium can result from such more thyroid than he needs is a medication but physicians are not going to melt his fat bigger order than you probably so well aware of this that if

Board Selects Equipment for Appleton East

School Contracts of $55,627 Go to Local Firm, Milwaukee Unit

Contracts totaling $55,627 for equipment for Appleton High School East were awarded to an Appleton and a Milwaukee firm Monday by the board of education.

The four contracts totaling $12,024 awarded to Valley School Suppliers of Appleton included 76 teacher desks for $8,508; 47 typing desks for $1,988; 31 machine desks, for $952; and 30 bookkeeping tables for $576.

Eight contracts totaling $43,603 went to School Equipment Consultants of Milwaukee. The contracts were for 1,705 fiber-glass chairs for $13,384; 684 cluster combination desks, $11,252; 428 lecture-type desks, $10,208; 80 student tables, 30 by 60 by 29 inches, $2,160; 73 student tables, 30 by 72 by 29 inches, $2,482; 32 student tables, 36 by 72 by 29 inches, $1,234; 47 round tables, $1,875; and 80 chair desks, $1,008.

Order Cuts Costs
Change orders, decreasing the cost of Appleton High School East by another $16,876 also were presented to the board by William Knuth, business director.

A total of $3,064 will be saved by omitting bumpers in the curbing on the parking lot. Another $11,717 will be saved by changing the school's flooring from vinyl asbestos to asphalt. Since the board selected brick for $77-per-thousand instead of $80-per-thousand, as originally estimated, a credit for $1,419 also was received.

Less than $50,000 now has to be cut from the cost to reach the $5 million allowed for constructing the school, Knuth said.

Canadian Firm Shows New Jet Prop Aircraft

Air Wisconsin Officials Given Sneak Preview of Plane Expected in Fall

A development version of Air Wisconsin's new jet prop was shown today to Appleton and Outagamie County residents. A group from deHavilland Aircraft of Canada, Ltd., flew to Appleton late Monday, to show the plane for the first time in the United States.

Two of these planes have been ordered by Air Wisconsin to beef up the Appleton-based airline's schedules between Outagamie County Airport and Chicago's O'Hare Field. One of the planes is expected to be delivered this fall and the other in March, 1967.

The development version of the plane, which was in Appleton today, was used to demonstrate its performance to the directors of Air Wisconsin. It came with a plain interior, no sound proofing, or paint job and other niceties that will be installed for commercial use, including a large passenger door.

Jet Props
When in operation, Air Wisconsin's new jet props will carry nearly the same number of passengers as two "Doves," the plane now used exclusively by the airline. The new plane can fly to an altitude of 27,000 feet and has a cruising speed of nearly 200 miles per hour.

Gov. Warren Knowles, center, met with Appleton Lions Club officials and two guests before the start of a speech at the Conway Hotel Monday noon during which he asked Fox Cities residents to accept an east-side Green Bay site for the new northeastern branch campus of the University of Wisconsin.

Knowles Defends Location Of New University Campus

Know in Conscience, Have Done Right Thing,' Governor Declares

Gov. Warren Knowles Monday defended his role and the activities of other state government officials involved in the selection of the Green Bay "Shorewood site" for the new northeastern branch campus of the University of Wisconsin.

"We're willing to take all the abuse and pressure we get," the governor said, "because we know in conscience that we have done the right thing."

Speaking at a meeting of the Appleton Lions Club at the Conway Hotel, Knowles told about 200 representatives of the Lions, other civic clubs and Fox Cities governments that, "to delay the project would mean damaging the educational future of all the children in the area."

Bridge, Roads Needed
While fielding a series of questions, Knowles said the estimated $40 million cost in bridges and highways to serve the east-side Green Bay school is not a valid point to be used in criticizing the site selection.

"because Mr. (G. H.) Bakke, chairman of the State Highway Commission, says the roads will have to be built in the long-run whether the school is located there or not."

The governor also said that he doesn't believe the Shorewood site was selected before the selection committee headed by Assemblyman Glenn Pommeroy of Wauwatosa had viewed the area. "I think the committee was there several times," he said.

Apparently referring to Outagamie County maneuvers aimed at upsetting the site selection, Knowles said he's "sorry this has developed into a political doneybrook because all that we have tried to do is to think of the educational needs of this area."

Decision 'Non-Political'
Stressing that the site selection decision was "non-political," Knowles said he was convinced that the site selection was made in the best interests of the state and the future of the University of Wisconsin.

Show at Chicago
Arriving with the plane were five members of the Canadian firm and Joseph Murphy of Air Transport World. A showing and demonstration of the Canadian plane will be given to the aviation trade press in Chicago Wednesday.

Air Wisconsin began operations late in August with two deHavilland "Doves," offering four daily non-stop flights each way between Appleton and Chicago. It recently added a third and fourth "Dove" to its fleet and increased the flights by 50 per cent, due to passenger demands of the area.

This new equipment was purchased with the proceeds from the additional stock offer in January. A limited amount of this stock is still available.

Driver Gets Jail Term for Four Violations

Milwaukee Man To Serve at Least 180, Up to 320 Days

Four traffic violations earned a 37-year-old Milwaukee motorist at least 180 days and possibly up to 320 days in jail Monday.

Appearing in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 before Judge Gustave J. Keller Monday afternoon was Patrick Heindl, who pleaded guilty of operating a motor vehicle after his driver's license had been revoked, operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants, unlawful use of another's driver's license, and speeding 45 miles an hour in a 25 zone.

Heindl was arrested about 8:15 a.m. Monday by Appleton police who stopped his car at S. Memorial Drive and Pierce Street following an alert issued by Menasha police.

An arresting patrolman told the court Heindl had three previous convictions for operating after revocation. The last time he lost his license, the judge was told, was Aug. 11, 1964.

Heindl was sentenced to the mandatory 180 days in jail on the charge of operating after revocation.

Judge Keller said he was imposing a higher than normal fine of $200 and costs or 80 days in jail on the charge of operating a vehicle under the influence of intoxicants because, as police pointed out, Heindl became belligerent and used abusive language to arresting patrolmen.

A fine of $100 and costs or 48 days was imposed after Heindl admitted he has been using his landlord's driver's license for the past eight months. He said he "found" the license.

Judge Keller imposed a fine of $25 and costs or 12 days in jail on Heindl's plea of guilty of speeding.

Heindl, when asked by the judge, said he was in no position to pay the fines. Judge Keller ordered that the jail terms be served consecutively. Heindl formerly lived in Menasha.

Survivors are his widow, two daughters, six sons, 24 grandchildren and 24 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 10 a.m. Thursday at Holy Cross Catholic Church with burial in the parish cemetery. Friends may call at the Fargo Funeral Home after 2 p.m. Wednesday.

Those who pass the exam will be selected for these positions as openings occur for permanent, temporary and part-time employees. Application blanks are available now.

Promising Premiere

The very first concert of a brand new symphony orchestra is exciting news at any time. A first concert as fine as the Fox Valley Symphony Orchestra's premiere Monday night is more than that.

An audience of 600 heard a musical event that was deeply impressive, not only because it promises much for the future, but because it was good in itself. That this could be accomplished in only a dozen rehearsals over a three-month period is a tribute to Conductor Karlos Moser, to the many in evidence than one might have expected.

The Beethoven "Overture" requires precision, accuracy, and balance; it received these qualities and was dramatically powerful as well. Delius "Walk Through the Paradise Garden" calls for delicacy, color, and roundness, and these were more than met.

One would like to name the many musicians who gave outstanding solos during the evening. Let's sum it up by saying that though many splendid individual contributions were heard, the group plays like an

The supervision status reportedly will continue until further order by the court.

Beverage Licenses, Public Dance Request Signify End of Lent

Let there be no doubt — the Lenten season is over. Members of the city council's welfare-ordinance committee Monday received four class B and one public dance license requests.

They came from: Third Order of St. Francis, 404 W. Lawrence St. Sacred Heart Christian Mother's Society, 1312 S. Monroe St. St. Therese Parish, 213 E. Wisconsin Ave. St. Thomas More Home and School Association, 1810 W. McDonald St.

The groups are holding post-Lenten gatherings at which malt beverages will be dispensed.

License applications, needless to say, received the "blessing" of the committee.

Need for New School Now Urgent

A Milwaukee architectural firm with an Appleton office, Schutte, Phillips, Mochon Inc., was selected Monday by the Appleton Board of Education to design the new Highland Elementary School in Gillett Highlands.

Originally more than 20 firms had applied for the job but the selection committee, consisting of Dr. Roy Whitney, president, Victor Sumnicht and John Schneider, narrowed the field to eight, interviewed last week.

"Though most of the firms which applied were capable of the job," Dr. Whitney said, "we had to eliminate the others for reasons of distance or conflicts in schedules. We feel that since the Schutte, Phillips and Mochon firm has a representative in Appleton, the work will be well supervised."

Firm's Staff
The selected firm, which designed the Little Chute High School now under construction, employs six regular architects and five engineers and uses consultants for specific jobs.

Another item which had to be considered, according to Dr. Whitney, was the orthopedic wing which is planned for the new school. "Since the selected firm has designed three orthopedic departments in the state, we felt we could benefit from their experience," he said.

"Some members did question hiring an outside firm the job but I feel that the board has not neglected local architects in the past," the president added.

According to Mrs. Myrl Davis, senior board member, the last school built by an outside firm was Jefferson, which was completed in 1951. Since then nine other schools have been designed and built by local architects.

Time Factor
Time, too, played an important part in the selection of the firm. According to Whitney, the architect has assured him that part of the school can be completed for the 1967-68 school year.

One of the reasons time is of the essence now, Dr. Whitney said, is that the board was

Slander Suit Filed Against TV Station

Oconto Candidate Seeks $83,000 From WBAY, Green Bay

GREEN BAY — An unsuccessful Oconto mayoral candidate has filed an $83,000 slander suit in Circuit Court against a local television station for alleged defamatory statements made in two televised newscasts the day before the election.

Patrick A. Bake, an Oconto insurance and real estate agent, brought the suit against WBAY-TV, Don Love, the station's news director, and the Norbertine Fathers as owners of the station.

The suit charges that the station, in its 6 p.m. and 10 p.m. newscasts of April 4, made statements creating the impression that Oconto was "hopelessly deficient, economically, socially, politically and educationally."

The suit further contends that the newscasts falsely implicated Bake as the initiator of these statements, and that the reaction of the viewing public in Oconto was violent and created general contempt toward the city and the plaintiff.

Bake further claimed that as a result of the newscasts, he suffered in his quest for public office in the election which commenced less than 12 hours after the last newscast.

(In the April 5 election, Bake was defeated in the mayoral race by Ernest Sucharda, 673 to 418, with four other candidates finishing behind Bake.)

In a break down of damages being sought, the plaintiff is seeking $30,000 for damage to his insurance and real estate business, $3,000 for loss of salary from the mayor position, and $50,000 in punitive damages for loss of reputation and character.

A hearing will be held Monday morning before Judge Raymond Rahr in Circuit Court Branch 2 on motions by the plaintiff that WBAY produce all the film used in the newscasts in question, and that the defendants show cause why a public retraction of the alleged defamatory statements should not be made.

The suit was filed late last week, and formal service of the charges was completed against all the named defendants Monday.

Need Cited for Storm Sewers In Appleton Downtown Area

Committee Told Installation On College Avenue Urgent

One of the most urgent projects connected with the College Avenue reconstruction is the installation of storm sewers in Appleton's central business district, city officials were told Monday night.

The avenue has never had any storm sewers. Public Works Director Robert W. Bues informed the council's welfare - ordinance committee that some policy or ordinance should be adopted which would require property owners to install a lateral to connect with the proposed new municipal storm mains.

Previously, the street-sanitation committee requested the welfare-ordinance group to prepare the necessary legislation but the latter postponed action Monday night.

To Study Requirements
Instead it instructed Bues and City Atty. Frederick E. Froehlich to arrive at the requirements and specific language that an ordinance would entail to cover the storm sewer situation which the city wants corrected.

Under state law and municipal plumbing codes, it is required that all storm and sanitary sewer waters be separated.

They are now combined on College Avenue with all storm water flowing into the sanitary sewers. Bues said it is a condition which should be corrected when plans are being prepared for the avenue reconstruction.

"For years all of the surface and water being pumped from basement sewers has been going into the sanitary sewer system on College Avenue and environs," Bues said.

Major Overhauling
He pointed out that in the past two years there has been a major overhauling of the city's sewer system to the point that storm and sanitary sewer water has been separated in most areas - except the central business district.

"We have already installed the necessary storm and sanitary sewer systems around the central business district so when College Avenue reconstruction starts the new sewers can be connected," Bues explained.

"Exactly 100 per cent of the water which should be going into storm sewers now is handled in the downtown sanitary system," Bues commented.

Mrs. Beals Dies Monday Afternoon

NEENAH — Mrs. Vina S. Beals, 83, a life resident of Neenah, whose husband was founder and president of Hardwood Products Corp., died Monday afternoon.

She was born in Neenah on Sept. 5, 1882, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Shattuck. Her father was a pioneer in the paper industry in Wisconsin and one of the founders of Kimberly-Clark Corp.

Mrs. Beals attended grade school in Neenah and graduated from Mount Vernon Seminary, Washington, D.C. She also attended Barnard Junior College in New York City and studied music in Paris.

She married Edward Duncan Beals in 1908. He died in 1928. Music was one of her primary interests and she was one of the founding directors of the Community Artists Association.

She also was interested in Riverside Park, adjacent to her home, and it was through her generosity that the present Riverside Park Pavilion and recent park gardens were made possible.

Mrs. Beals was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, the Neenah-Menasha Emergency Society, Daughters of American Revolution, North Shore Golf Club and former president of the Neenah-Menasha Tuesday Club.

A memorial service will be held at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday at the First Presbyterian Chapel with the Rev. John E. Bouquet officiating. Interment will be in Mount Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge, Mass.

The Westgor Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements. There will be no visitation.

Ask 3 Bridges In Winnebago

OSHKOSH — Three bridges in Winnebago County were cited as major needs by V. L. Fiedler, secretary of the Wisconsin State Highway Commission when he spoke Monday afternoon to the Wisconsin Concrete Pavers Association at the Pioneer Hotel here.

They are a second bridge across Lake Butte des Morts for U.S. 41 southbound traffic, a bridge in the Neenah-Menasha area and a new bridge at Omro, one of two he said was almost impossible to maintain.

Course Set On Restoring Heart Beat

Teachers to Learn New Method at Two-Day Program

A training program teaching a new life-saving method of restoring the beat to a stopped heart by external massage and mouth-to-mouth breathing will be presented at the Appleton Fire Department's Station No. 1 at 7:00 p.m. on Wednesday and Thursday.

Two Appleton internists, Drs. Robert O'Boyle and Darrell Slette, will conduct the two-day course. The program is being sponsored by the Wisconsin Heart Association and will be open to the public.

External heart massage or closed chest heart resuscitation as a nonsurgical method of restoring the heart by controlled, intermittent pressure of the hands upon the patient's breastbone. The method has proved successful in 70 per cent of the cases in which it was applied correctly.

The Heart Association stressed, however, that its application must be limited to persons who are properly trained because the technique is not without hazard.

NEENAH — MENASHA — The battle of the "majors" and the "independents" is in a new round, with the "independents" apparent aggressors.

The Twin City area's continuing gasoline price war flared anew over the weekend, and today seemed to be still underway.

Ordinance Upheld

Man Behind the Bar Will Not be a Woman

It may be a long time in Appleton before the man behind the bar is a woman.

The most recent legislative overture to allow the issuance of a bartender's license to a female screamed to a halt Monday night.

Members of the city council's welfare-ordinance committee decided to put a "hold" on the resolution submitted last week by Ald. Glenn W. Thompson (13th) and Richard Kohlbeck (15th).

Delete From Ordinance
The aldermen wanted the word "female" deleted from the ordinance which says anyone may obtain a license except a female over 21 years of age.

No action was taken last night because Kohlbeck was unable to be on hand to explain the merits of his proposal.

And Thompson, also on the committee, decided he would wait for Kohlbeck.

In the past, the committee has been split on whether to lower the barrier and license girls to work behind the bar.

When a Ruffed Grouse gets its feathers ruffled, it's liable to do anything, like flying through a double-paned window. Here, framed in the shattered glass, Erwin Gering, Mayville furniture factory owner, holds the frightened bird as he inspects the damage. Gering turned the grouse over to a conservation warden. ## Town Resident Vehemently Protests Street Action MENASHA — An irate Appleton man vehemently protested the vacating of a street in an area platted by his father at Monday's town board meeting. The road which was more than three months after a court decision was handed down.

John E. Van Groll, 1631 S. Connell St., declared his father wasn't informed of the action until after the court decision. He threatened law suits to rescind the street vacation.

Straight to Top
Van Groll said he wasn't going to act through his attorney but was going straight to the attorney general. He said he was to meet with Bronson LaFollette at 10 a.m. today.

The road in question was in the Van Groll plat on State 114 near U.S. 10. A petition, signed by seven property owners and presented to Circuit Court Judge Arnold Cane in Oshkosh on Dec. 27. No opposition was recorded to the street vacation.

Van Groll claimed his 83-year-old father wasn't notified of the hearing. Town Atty. Everett Stecker said public notices had been posted, official newspaper items published and letters had been sent to 19 property owners in the subdivision. A letter also had been sent to John Van Groll at route 3, Appleton, but the elderly man didn't receive it, because he had since moved to the village of Denmark.

Stecker said Van Groll was notified as a courtesy and such a daughter, two sons, two brothers, two sisters and five grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 10 a.m. Thursday at St. Mary Catholic Church. Friends may call at the Wichmann Funeral Home, after 3 p.m. Wednesday.

The town will advertise for bids of 14 miles of sealcoat, 2.3 miles of hot mix blacktop, culvert pipe and stone and gravel for road improvements this summer.

Clerk Robert Jacobs reported some $5,449 was returned to the town from the City of Menasha because of a mistake in state taxation allocations in 1963. Another $919 was returned to the town from Neenah, he said.

Prange Center To Have New Car 'Doctor'

Diagnosis System to Analyze Function, Pinpoint Trouble

A revolutionary method for determining a car's ills is being constructed at Prange's Tire Center, 2700 W. College Ave. A diagnostic center called "Dynotrac" is being installed with completion date set at May 15, officials said.

First of its kind in the area, the equipment will test more than 125 vital functions of a car, pinpointing troubles and potential troubles before they can grow into expensive major repairs, officials said.

30 Minutes
A thorough analysis takes about 30 minutes. A written report of the testing will be given to each car-owner after the extensive testing is finished.

Herman Ripp, manager, stated, "It's like a Mayo Clinic for cars. We'll be able to give each car a very thorough physical exam to find out exactly what's wrong. Only then will we recommend repairs, if there are any to be made."

Testing is done under dynamic conditions. Cars will be operating at road speeds up to 60 m.p.h. during various tests. This is important, as it reveals exactly how the car operates when being driven, officials said.

As the car moves through the various tests, an explanation of what's going on is given by remote phone to the owner. Monitor units are set up so the owner is able to read the meters and gauges during the testing.

Positive Leader

Karlos Moser is a clear and positive leader, modest in his motions, and never distracting. Congratulations are due him for the music selected. It avoided the commonplace and provided varied musical fare. His conducting showed intelligence, warmth, and conviction. Lawrence University's renovated chapel provided a lovely setting for the concert, and its acoustics contributed to the vibrant orchestral sounds.

The Fox Valley area has benefited from many outstanding and devoted musicians who have given much to its musical life. The symphony is an important further step in the area's musical development. Professionals, students, and devoted amateurs from the Fox Valley communities performed with and organized the orchestra. Its potential contribution is great. It has proved that it deserves the area's support. It is good to know that it is off to such a fine start.

recently informed by the Rev. Richard Keller, pastor, St. Pius X Catholic Church, that the parochial school plans to close the first grade starting with the 1967 school year, a condition which will exist for about eight years until additional classrooms can be built.

"This means that about 125 more children, many of whom live in the Gillett Highlands, will have to be absorbed by the public schools. So what was a project to be completed as soon as possible we now have to label urgent," Dr. Whitney said.

Orthopedic Wing

The new school will be built to handle about 660 children and will be designed in such a way that six or seven additional rooms can be added if and when they are needed, increasing the capacity to about 1,000. The orthopedic wing would serve about 60 youngsters, according to William Spears, superintendent.

Spears also presented a plan to the board which calls for three kindergarten rooms, nine primary and nine intermediate classrooms, a combination science and crafts room, a library, music room, a combination gym-stage-dining area, shower and dressing rooms, health center, speech therapy room, testing room, kitchen storeroom, teachers' lounge, toilets and office suite.

The total square footage for these rooms would be about 41,200. Special education plans call for about 11,100 additional square feet, for a total of 52,300 square feet. This does not include heating services, janitorial facilities and corridors.

"It must be emphasized," Dr. Whitney said, "that these plans will serve as basic guidelines, are flexible and certainly subject to change."

'Death of Salesman' Scheduled for May 8

Lee J. Cobb, Creator of Broadway Role
In Miller Drama, in CBS-TV Version

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Willy Loman, classic symbol of the futile search for success, will be unloading his sample cases on television next.

Willy is the leading figure of Arthur Miller's "Death of a Salesman." In presenting the play May 8, CBS performs the novelty of featuring the actor who created the role: Lee J. Cobb. That was something Hollywood never thought of. Fredric March played Willy in the movie version.

"Naturally I was disappointed when I wasn't offered the movie," says Cobb. "But when I saw the film, I considered myself lucky. It looked as if it had been made by the enemy."

With Co-Star
Cobb was among friends when he performed Willy at CBS Television City this spring. Opposite him was his original co-star Mildred Dunnock, and it was the first time they had done the play in 17 years.

"I didn't need makeup this time," the actor commented ruefully. "Before, I had to deepen the facial lines and hide the baby fat."

"Death of a Salesman" may represent a turning point in American television, as it was indeed a milestone in American drama. The idea of CBS, the fun-and-games network, putting on a serious play in prime time is remarkable.

Cobb assured that "Salesman" was made with few compromises.

Star Impressed
"I was impressed by the serious attack that the creative people took toward the play," said the actor. "Cuts had to be made to fit into the two-hour span. But the sense and impact of the drama wasn't hurt. They kept the spirit of the original."

He admitted that he had hoped to play Willy again, but wasn't sure he would.

"There have been a few offers over the years, but I didn't want merely to tour the country with the play," said Cobb. "I thought I should wait until enough time had elapsed to allow a fresh attitude toward the play. And I wanted to be sure it would be done in a sober and respectful manner."

Versatile Actor
The versatility of Lee J. Cobb is demonstrated by the fact that he can swing with ease from Willy Loman to a stock television Western to a campy spy farce. During the past four years he has been the dramatic mainstay of "The Virginian."

But his life on the range appears to be ending.

"I'm almost phased out of the series," said the actor. "I have four more 'Virginians' to do, and then I'm out of it."

"My participation has never been more than partial, anyway. There have been a few good 'Virginians,' but that has been the trouble: there are only a few. Doing Willy has proved a vivid reminder of what's possible on the outside."

Cobb's plans include a sequel to "Our Man Flint," in which he played the apologetic chief of the far-out secret agent, James Coburn.

Kennedy Foundation
On Retardation Gives $200,000 in Awards

BOSTON (AP) — Seven persons shared $200,000 in awards Monday night from the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation for research, leadership, and service in the quest to prevent and treat mental retardation.

The awards concluded a day-long scientific symposium on mental retardation held by the foundation that was established by Ambassador and Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy to honor their oldest son, who was killed in World War II.

Named winner in the service category was Mother Mary Ronald, superior general of the sisters of the Third Order of St. Francis of Assisi, Milwaukee, Wis. She was awarded $50,000.

The order was cited for schools that it conducts for the mentally retarded in Milwaukee and Jefferson, Wis.; Hanover and Braintree, Mass., and Palos Park, Ill.

The Delightful "Dominique" melody is being played by actress Debbie Reynolds in this scene from her movie "The Singing Nun," opening Wednesday at the Viking Theater.

New formula works 5 ways for faster, longer-lasting relief!

In clinical tests of new M.P.O.—an advanced treatment for hemorrhoids (piles)—doctors reported "results were good to excellent" for 5 out of every 6 patients!

M.P.O. works 5 ways for faster, longer-lasting relief:

1. Helps ease pain faster. You get more medically accepted pain-relieving ingredients, including Benzocaine, than in the preparation you may now be using.

2. Helps shrink swollen tissues. M.P.O. quickly releases the proven vaso-constrictor, Ephed-rine Sulfate, to reduce swelling.

3. Relieves embarrassing itch. M.P.O. is homogenized for faster absorption, faster relief.

4. Gives longer relief. A more temperature-stable base holds medication in place, prolongs relief-bringing action.

5. Fights danger of infection. Proven germ-killer Hexachlorophene combats bacteria.

Combat Has Top Episode; Hogan Stars

BY TV SCOUT

6:30-7:30 — Channels 11-6-9 — Combat maintains its high standards with an excellent story of a man growing under the weight of command. Kirby, played by Jack Hogan who is a very good (and underrated) actor, is made temporary squad leader when Saunders has to go back to the command post for a meeting. Everything happens at once to poor Kirby, and it's all bad.

6:30-7:30 — Channels 2-7-12 — Daktari has another good family show. David Opatoshu is a VIP who comes to the Warner Game Preserve with his pretty daughter (Gloria Manon) with one purpose: to hunt (outside the preserve of course) and kill a wild animal. By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — All of his life, Kirk Douglas has believed in the cult of the champion, whose only success lies in constant victory.

Lately, however, the actor confesses to having some second thoughts.

"Something happens in this quest for success. Sometimes you can lose yourself along the way," he said.

Kirk Douglas Hankers To Become a Director

Competitive Since Boyhood, Actor
Changes View on Constant Victory

NEW YORK (AP) — All of his life, Kirk Douglas has believed in the cult of the champion, whose only success lies in constant victory.

S. Vietnamese Hold Differing Views on War

Some Like Bustle, Money of Soldier, Others Want Peace

By EDWIN Q. WHITE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — What do the Vietnamese people think about such things as the war, their government, the Americans, the future?

Any attempt to answer that reflects the divergent views and circumstances that make up Viet Nam.

Who are the people? Are they the 80 per cent who live off the land in this country of 15 million? Are they represented by the military structure that has come into dominance? Are they the intellectuals, the professional people?

All these, with student and religious groups that have been active in the past, make up the people. There are almost as many answers to the question of what they think as there are groups, or perhaps individuals.

Take Saigon, for example. This once-picturesque city has taken on the aspects of a tawdry boom town, but some people seem to like what has happened. They hear the artillery every night and they see flames light up the sky. Sometimes some of them are killed or maimed in a terrorist explosion.

Free Spending
But the city is jammed with free-spending Americans and there is money to be made.

Restaurants, bars and cabarets, souvenir shops and hotels are springing up all over the place. The demand for skilled or semiskilled labor cannot be met. There are jobs for almost anyone who wants to work.

Prices of almost everything have skyrocketed, however, and the income of a man on a salary has not kept pace. Some basic foods often are scarce. The city is jammed with people who have fled the war in the countryside. Despite government bans, beggars flock to the streets. When the midnight curfew comes, there are sleeping forms, many of them children, along the sidewalks and in doorways on the once fashionable boulevards. There are poor, sometimes hungry, people.

Despite the misery, there is a "make it now" atmosphere, coupled with the acceptance of a people long accustomed to war.

Aid Programs
Much the same is true in other cities and larger towns in Viet Nam. There is a boom, brought by the influx of more than 200,000 U.S. military men, the accompanying construction projects and the rich aid programs.

While the get-rich-quick elements enjoy it, there is another side.

"We are corrupting these people," said a white-haired American driving along a bar-lined street. "After the French and after some of the things they have been through with some of their own governments, I wouldn't have thought it was possible. But it is."

Some Vietnamese share his feelings. They say they realize the necessity for what has happened to their country. Many are sincerely grateful for the U.S. military effort, and say they believe it has given them their last chance to keep from being taken over by the Communists. Still, they wish things could have been different.

Too Unpleasant
Middle-aged, middle-income men and their wives, or young men and their sweethearts, no longer stroll along what was once graceful Rue Catinat in the evenings. There are too many unpleasant things — too much traffic, too many GI bars, too many fights, too many police of all kinds.

As for what they think of the government, the usual comment is: "Well, it has lasted longer than anyone thought it would."

This is true. When the military regime headed by Premier Nguyen Cao Ky took power last June, few people gave it much of a chance. Now, on the surface and as governments go in Viet Nam, it appears fairly stable.

"What do you think of Premier Ky and his government?" was the question put to one 23-year-old girl at an English language school.

"Mr. Ky is a big man now and so people like him," she replied. "He is a big man any more, then people won't like him."

Her somewhat vague view seemed representative of the thinking of many of the people and indicative of their acceptance of political circumstance.

In the United States, the question of free elections is denied. Many ask if the Vietnamese people would vote for an anti-Communist government.

Here the question seems beside the point of reality.

High American authorities concede that when the Vietnamese government talks of holding elections, as it says it will do in 1967, it is thinking only of the election of non-Communists. It is not considering any plan for letting the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front or any other Communist group put up candidates.

While saying they know of no way to insure free elections now, Americans here do hold theoretical discussions on the subject.

Red Ballots
Qualified persons emphasize that for years the Communists have been working to build what now is a disciplined, experienced, knowledgeable political machine. They recognize there is nothing like it on the Vietnamese government side, and they leave little doubt that if there were a free election now, the Communists would come out Red.

Although the official pronouncements differ, many Vietnamese will agree privately with that assessment.

This does not mean that the majority of the people want to be ruled by the Communists. Many are strongly opposed to it. Thousands fled from Communist rule in the North. It is felt that the young military men now holding power are dedicated in their fight against communism.

There also are those, however, who see no real hope. The wife of a successful Saigon doctor speaks four languages now. She plans to take English lessons. Asked if she planned to visit the United States, she replied:

No Surveys
"No, we hope to be able to move there after the Communists take over."

There are no public opinion surveys in Viet Nam. There are no mass communications that link or inform the people. There are people in the cities who can talk of the latest trends in modern art, music or international affairs. In the rice paddies there are peasants who

Professionalism Is Making Teachers More Militant, Doctor Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Increasing professionalism among school teachers is making them more militant, says Dr. Ronald G. Corwin of Ohio State University.

And, he added in a recently released survey, this increased militancy may well bring teachers more authority.

Because of their professionalism, more conflicts are likely to occur with administrators, Corwin said. He added, however, that 75 per cent of teachers in public schools are passive and enter into little conflict.

Dade County Applies For Atomic Reactors

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission has received an application from Florida Power & Light Co. to build two atom-powered reactors at its Turkey Point site in Dade County, Fla.

The reactors would have a capacity of 760,000 kilowatts of electricity and would cost an estimated $133 million.

do not know the French are gone or that the Americans are here. Most of them know for one reason or another that there is a war going on. They only know what happens in their rice field or hamlet.

The tired cliché still holds as for what the people think and want: Most of them just want to be left alone.

FHA, GI Home Loan Rate Raised to Lure More Money

Lowering of Charge to Obtain Mortgage Expected to Follow

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
WASHINGTON (AP) — In a move designed to attract more money to the field, the government has raised the interest rate on new FHA and GI home loans from 5½ to 5¾ per cent. It was the second boost in interest rates on such mortgages in little more than two months. It will mean increased monthly payments on new mortgages — about $3 additional each month on a $15,000 mortgage. But its main effect is expected to be a lowering of the charge which must be paid to obtain a mortgage. In some areas this charge — called points — now runs as high as 6 or 7 per cent of the total value of a mortgage. Monday's announcement of increased interest rates on mortgages insured by the Federal Housing Administration or guaranteed by the Veterans Administration represented a further sign of tight money. Unaffected are the estimated 6 million outstanding FHA and VA mortgages which will continue to bear interest at the agreed-upon rate.

Become Competitive
One critic of high interest rates, Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., chairman of the House Banking Committee, said the FHA and VA "had to do it to be competitive."

The real cause, Patman said, is the Federal Reserve Board's action last December increasing the discount rate from 4 to 4½ per cent. This is the amount paid by banks to borrow from the Federal Reserve.

Home builders and mortgage bankers had urged the Johnson administration in January to boost FHA interest rates to 5½ per cent but FHA went only to 5¼ per cent Feb. 7. VA followed.

Youths Turn Outing Into Grand Wreck

Damage to Capital Suburb Park, Stores Estimated at $5,000

By SEYMOUR M. HERSH
GLEN ECHO, Md. (AP) —

Scores of young persons turned a day-after-Easter outing into a stormy two-hour wrecking spree at an amusement park and then moved to the nearby streets, breaking windows in some homes and autos.

Some of the youths crowded into a grocery store across the road from the park. Witnesses said they smashed glass containers on the floor and helped themselves to pies, fruit, popcorn and chocolate milk.

More than 152 state and county police were needed to restore order Monday night to this suburb near the nation's capital. Officials set damage at $5,000 and said some parts of the Glen Echo Amusement Park were in shambles.

At least six persons were injured by flying glass, and three youths were arrested.

Not Racial
"This wasn't anything racial," said Inspector Kenneth W. Watkins of the Montgomery County police. "I wouldn't even say it was a riot. There wasn't that type of fighting — no hand-to-hand combat."

He said no more than 100 youths took part in the disturbance.

Watkins said the trouble began with pushing and shoving among the estimated 1,500-2,000 youths — nearly all of them Negroes — who had jammed into the park. Other estimates of the crowd ranged up to 7,500. The park was desegregated in 1961.

"People running the rides were being badgered and shut them down," Watkins said. "This resulted in some of the patrons trying to take over." Eventually, he said, officials were forced to shut down the park.

26 Cubans Flee in Boat 21 Feet Long

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — There was standing room only when 26 Cubans escaped from their homeland in a 21-foot boat. "It was crowded, all right, but we didn't mind it," said Celia Perez, 45, at the Cuban Refugee Center Monday. "The voyage took us three days."

Mrs. Perez said she left a 24-year-old son imprisoned in Cuba. The boat, which arrived over the weekend, carried 18 men, 5 women and 3 children. Five of the men were exiles who had returned to Cuba to bring out the rest.

The arrivals brought to 320 the number of small boat refugees since a daily airlift began Dec. 1. Many of the escapees have been youths of military age, ineligible for the plane shuttle.

Two flights brought 152 Cubans Monday, bringing the airlift total to 15,799. Seventy-three per cent of the arrivals are being resettled, the rescue center reported.

Reconstitution of Man Could Permanently Preserve Genius

LOS ANGELES (AP) — When ancient Egyptians mummified the dried tissue of mummified bodies, could be copied and years ago, they did so in the belief that the dead would be reincarnated in all their splendor at some future time.

That time, says a university zoologist, is no more than a century or two away.

But the process will be reconstitution instead of reincarnation. Prof. Elford Carlson told a group of fellow scientists Monday. The actual dead will not be brought back to life, but in their place will be grown physical copies of men and women who once lived, he said.

The copies will have all of the genius possessed by their predecessors, except for their memories and emotions.

Carlson, a zoologist at the University of California at Los Angeles, said the process will be routine within a century or two because of the study of genetic codes or gene patterns. These codes or patterns, preserved in the dried tissue of mummified bodies, could be copied and placed in fertilized egg cells. "For example, once the genetic code of a great genius is determined, hundreds of thousands of his duplicates can be created for the world's benefit. If Mozart's body had been mummified, thousands of Mozarts could be reconstituted," Dr. Carlson said.

"We some day could be able to reconstitute Joan of Arc except that she was burned. As an example, we certainly will be able to reconstruct King Tutankhamen from his Egyptian mummy."

Carlson said he is confident that nucleic acid crystals necessary to identify the mummy's genetic code will be found. He noted that other proteins discovered in such tissue have made it possible for scientists to type the blood of Egyptians who have been dead for tens of centuries.

Joseph Cardinal Beran, center, 77-year-old Archbishop of Prague who had spent almost 19 years in prison under Nazi and Communist regimes before his release by Communists last year, arrives in New York Monday for a visit to American cities. Welcoming him were Czechoslovakian-born New York housewife Mrs. Pozena Popule, right, who offers him bread and salt as a hospitality gesture, and Cardinal Spellman, Archbishop of New York. ## Ocean Shippers Threaten to Pass Milwaukee During Strike on Docks

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Ocean-going ships may start bypassing the Great Lakes port of Milwaukee if a contract dispute over cargo handling is not soon settled, shipping agents said Monday.

A federal mediator called a meeting this morning between season-to-dock in Milwaukee, longshoremen and terminal operators to resume the negotiations that were broken off last Thursday night as dock work came to a halt.

The Ghana ship, Pra River, which docked here Thursday night, sailed to Chicago Monday without unloading its 480-ton cargo of cocoa beans.

Teamster Members

Shipping agent James Eiers said the Pra River would take on other cargo at Chicago and sail back toward Milwaukee Thursday, but would go on to Detroit for unloading if the dock dispute were not settled by then. Detroit dock workers are Teamster members.

The freighter, Mikigesan Maru, from Japan, docked at Detroit Monday en route to Milwaukee, but will be sent on to Chicago Thursday for unloading its 2,000-ton cargo if no settlement has been reached here, shipping agent Thomas T. Pfeil said.

Both the terminal operators and Local 815, International Longshoremen's Association, said Monday they were filing unfair labor practices charges against the other side with the National Labor Relations Board.

Stopped Thursday
The talks collapsed last Thursday after the operators said the longshoremen refused to sign a written extension of the three-year contract that expired April 1. The terminal operators said they had no alternative to shutting down dock work until the stalemate was broken.

The Pra River had been the first ocean-going ship of the

Hijacker's Death Sought in Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cuban radio reported Monday night that mobs in Havana asked for the immediate execution of Angel Betancourt Cueto the flight engineer who tried to hijack a Cuban airliner and fly to Miami.

He was arrested Monday morning inside a Roman Catholic convent in Havana. Betancourt had escaped when the airliner, carrying 91 passengers, landed at Rancho Boyeros Airport March 27. He had been sought since then.

The flight engineer killed the pilot and an armed guard during his unsuccessful attempt to fly the plane to Miami.

Twins Again—Family's Running Out of Names

HARTFORD, Wis. (AP)—Mrs. Francis Benzing has given birth to twins for the third time. For Mrs. Benzing, wife of a dairy farmer near Neosho in Dodge County, the births Sunday brought a problem—what to name the baby boy and his sister.

The Benzing now have 17 children, and the mother said, "It's difficult now for us all to agree on names we like."

Southwest Power Project Gets Okay

Gigantic Twin Steam Generators To Give Boost to Depressed Area

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — The way has been cleared for construction of two giant steam and Indian-owned coal. Meas-generating plants in the Southwest, the first stage in development of the largest regional electric power program in history. Under an agreement announced Monday night between the Interior Department and a group of electric utilities, one of the 1½ million-kilowatt steam generating plants will be near Farmington, N.M., and the other below Lake Mohave and Davis Dam in the southern tip of Nevada.

Besides supplies of adequate dependable power for a nine-state area, the program also will mean a big economic boost for depressed areas in which the plants are to be constructed.

The New Mexico plant has been described by officials of the sprawling Navajo reservation as more beneficial to the tribe's economy than any single activity in history.

Public Private Utilities
Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall announced in Washington the agreement with Western Energy Supply and Transmission Associates — WEST, a group of 21 private and public electric utilities. Formed in 1964 to plan for future electrical needs, WEST by 1965 plans to have three times the generating capacity of Tennessee Valley Authority and 18 times that of Grand Coulee Dam.

The agreement covers water contracts, sites, rights-of-way and Indian-owned coal. Measures are spelled out to abate air and water pollution at the plants.

"This clears the way for all necessary agreements," said WEST President D. W. Reeves of Albuquerque, chief executive of the Public Service Company of New Mexico. "In other words we can proceed now with the construction."

Transmission Lines
The plant near Farmington will serve Southern California, Arizona, southwest Texas and New Mexico. The one at Mohave, managed by the Southern California Edison Co., will service a similar region. More than 1,800 miles of transmission lines will be constructed.

To the 105,000 members of the Navajo tribe, largest Indian tribe in the country, the Farmington plant will mean many new jobs, more than twice the royalties from the tribe's vast coal reserves and even electricity on a preferred basis.

Your Money's Worth

Quality Improvements Cause Some Price Hikes

BY SYLVIA PORTER
Today's higher-priced automobile tire is the strongest and most reliable ever. Is the cost of tires rising, or are we getting enough extra mileage to offset the additional money we spend? The cost of medical care is soaring but so is the calibre of that care to you in terms of your health and your life. Is it economic indicator so that it can gauge quality deterioration as well as improvement. As an illustration, the declining quality of public transportation, car and home repairs, domestic work, etc.

A completely "true" measure of consumer price changes is unattainable because we cannot measure how useful or rewarding so many of the goods and services we buy today actually are. We cannot measure whether today's haircut or movie or book is better or worse than yesterday's or whether the higher prices we pay now for them amount to a price rise or a quality rise.

That our cost of living has been rising at an accelerating rate is undisputable. Moreover, in many of the key areas in which costs are rising most rapidly (meat, vegetables, auto insurance, etc.) quality changes are relatively minor.

Nevertheless, the unmeasurable rise in the quality of many necessities and luxuries surely helps "moderate" the pain of these increases. This is particularly so in an era when new products are flooding into the nation's marketplace.

A fact which you well may not realize is that the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics can and does take into account many quality improvements in computing the Consumer Price Index. For instance, in the 1958-61 period, the price of refrigerators surveyed by the BLS jumped from $217 to $261. But the later models were self-defrosting and had more frozen food storage space and thus the CPI showed an 11 per cent price "DROP" from 1958 price levels. During the 1955-60 changeover from wringer-type washing machines to automatic models, the dollar price soared 86 per cent in one city. But the CPI showed a price "DROP" of 2.6 per cent in that same city.

Although prices have risen on most new car models this year, the BLS calculates that because of added safety features and other quality improvements, the consumer actually has been paying 7 per cent "less" for 1966 cars.

Better Equipment
Similarly, the CPI takes into account such improvements in goods and services as more auto horsepower, color TV, better-equipped and more comfortable hospital rooms.

The index-makers figure that rising drug prices are at least counter-balanced by rising drug effectiveness. A new "miracle drug" is counted not as a higher-priced version of an old compound, but as an entirely new product its worth is measured by what consumers actually pay when the drug has become accepted in the marketplace.

But the CPI cannot, and does not, measure the worth of better medical care, better-trained teachers, better-equipped schools, unprecedented choices of foods on supermarket shelves, the abundance of different styles and colors in clothes in department stores, fancy status-building grilles and tail fins on cars.

It has yet to refine the nation's most closely watched economic indicator so that it can gauge quality deterioration as well as improvement. As an illustration, the declining quality of public transportation, car and home repairs, domestic work, etc.

Questions and Answers

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q -- Do men in the Armed Forces have to pay tax on their pay?

A -- Unless they are serving in the combat zone — Viet Nam — their pay is subject to income tax. Members of the Armed Forces serving in Viet Nam or hospitalized as a result of such service, are entitled to an exclusion from gross income. All compensation to enlisted men and warrant officers for such service is excludable. For commissioned officers, the first $200 per month of such compensation is excludable.

Q -- I have a company pension. Is it taxable?

A -- The full amount of pension received is taxable if you did not contribute to the cost of the pension. If your company contributed to the pension, that portion paid by the company will represent taxable income to you.

Q -- My uncle gave me $200 last Christmas. This money brought my income to over $600. Does that mean I have to file a return?

A -- The gift from your uncle is not taxable income and does not have to be reported.

Q -- Someone told me that when you drive your car to a doctor's office or hospital you may deduct your travel costs as medical expenses. Is that right?

A -- Transportation costs to obtain medical care or treatment are a deductible expense, if you otherwise qualify for a medical expense deduction. You may deduct 5 cents a mile for this purpose when you drive.

Note that the deduction is only allowed to obtain treatment. You don't get this deduction if you are going to visit someone in the hospital or if your doctor has advised a change of environment for you.

Mr. Glenn Arthur
Advertising Director
The Post-Crescent
Appleton, Wis.

Dear Mr. Arthur:

I am writing this letter to tell you of my complete satisfaction with my advertising in the Post-Crescent Classified columns.

I have been a consistent, daily advertiser on the Classified pages since I started my own Real Estate Agency in March of 1961. I know from my five years experience how vital Classified Advertising is in selling Real Estate. The Sunday paper is especially good in this field because of the extra readership. This helps generate business early in the week.

To say which ad; size, style, ad composition, etc., gave me the greatest results would be impossible. In my opinion good consistency and description of homes advertised is the key to successful investment of my advertising dollar.

In closing, may I congratulate you on such a fine newspaper and may you continue to serve the Fox Cities with undoubtedly our finest advertising medium.

Also, may I compliment you on the cooperation and aid given by your Classified Representative, John McPeak.

Cordially,

Consistency in advertising—as employed by Du Chateau Real Estate—is, most assuredly, the proven basis for success in selling services and products. But consistency in the medium is as important as the repetition of the advertising itself . . . for people are accustomed to "shop" most where the most shopping advantages are listed . . . and the Want Ad section of the Daily and Sunday Post-Crescent has long been just such a "marketplace." Open your shop on this "street of sales" . . . and see for yourself.

Overflow Crowd at Sportsmen's Congress

Early Teal Hunt Opposed

BY JIM HARP
Post-Crescent Outdoor Editor
The proposal that Wisconsin participate in the early teal hunt planned for the second straight year in the central flyway was soundly defeated by Outagamie County sportsmen at the annual Conservation Congress meeting held Monday night at the courthouse annex.
An overflow crowd of better than 200 men and women jammed the small meeting room, taking up all available chairs, standing around the sides of the room and some sat on the floor.
The teal season, which Wisconsin did not participate in last year, drew more controversy than those subjects where some question and dispute were anticipated. Such proposals as the outlined 1966 deer hunting season, the issuing of deer party permits and the taking of two pheasant cocks on opening weekend received much less attention than sportsmen devoted to arguing for or against the early teal hunt.
Chase Mallards Out
As it turned out, only 21 sportsmen voted for the state's participating in the teal hunt with the majority going on record against it. Chief argument of the opposition was that room, taking up all available chairs, standing around the sides of the room and some sat on the floor.

Cleveland Rally Nips Senators In Opener, 5-2

4-Run Ninth Earns Win for McDowell; Howard Raps Homer

WASHINGTON (AP) — As a dejected Washington fan left D.C. Stadium after the Senators dropped a 5-2 decision to Cleveland in the season's American League opener, he said to a friend:
"Well, they blew another one. But it figured they would."
And, in a way, it did.
Cleveland's Sam McDowell, the 23-year-old left-handed fireballer who struck out 325 and led the league with a 2.15 earned run average last year, figured to pick up where he left off. And he did.
McDowell, reaching back when he needed it, struck out nine, allowed only four hits — one for extra bases — and gave up four bases on balls.
With the Senators leading 2-1 going into the last inning, not too many of the 44,468 crowd, largest ever for an opening day in Washington, left for home. And it figured.
Too often in past years, Washington fans had left early with the Senators leading only to learn later the hometown favorites had lost the game in the late innings.
And that's what happened Monday.
With one out in the ninth, Larry Brown walked and Dick Howser ran for him. A pinch double by Jim Landis and a walk to pinch hitter Chico Salmon loaded the bases.
Vic Davalillo's single scored two runs to give Cleveland the victory margin. A throwing error put Salmon and Davalillo on second and third, and they scored the cushion runs on a single by Max Alvis.
Even Washington's moment of happiness figured.
Big Frank Howard, who hit 21 home runs with an ailing shoulder in 1965, figure to get the range early this year now that he was healthy again. The 6-foot-7, 225-pounder lashed a line drive home run down the left field line in the sixth inning to give the Senators a 2-1 lead.
Cleveland had scored its first run in the third when Davalillo walked, took third on Alvis' single and scored on Leon Wagner's sacrifice fly.

The Indians held first place in the American league today, a position many experts figure they might have at the end of the 162-game season.
And the Senators, as many experts figured they might be, were last.
Cleveland Manager Birdie Tebbets was elated with his team's first victory of the season. It figured he would be.
"It's great," he said when asked how it felt to be the league leader. "I hope we're there all year long."
Davalillo was also exuberant because he figured pitcher Ron Kline, who relieved starter Pete Richert, would be trying to throw him hard and outside when he came up in the ninth.

And the Senators, as many experts figured they might be, were last.
Cleveland Manager Birdie Tebbets was elated with his team's first victory of the season. It figured he would be.
"It's great," he said when asked how it felt to be the league leader. "I hope we're there all year long."
Davalillo was also exuberant because he figured pitcher Ron Kline, who relieved starter Pete Richert, would be trying to throw him hard and outside when he came up in the ninth.

Stanky Doesn't Like To Platoon His Team

Chisox Manager Rates Twins as 'Most Impressive'

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP) — Eddie Stanky, the little guy with the piercing blue eyes and sincere confidence, returns to the managerial wars after an absence of more than 10 years.

Stanky, whose last and only managerial stint was terminated with the St. Louis Cardinals in May 1955, leads the Chicago White Sox against the California Angels today.

Armed with a 21-7 spring record, Stanky held a press conference after a brisk White Sox workout Monday and reporters from throughout the midwest failed to ask a single question that The Brat wasn't prepared to answer.

In rapid fire action, Stanky revealed what can be expected of him as a manager, his plans, his hopes and his knowledge of the American League.

Same 8 Men

"I'm not a platoon manager, I like to play the same eight men. When a team strikes out a lot, it takes the game out of the manager's hands."

"I went into spring training with an open mind. The men who showed me the most won the jobs. Knowing Moose Skowron as I do, I know he'd think less of me if I didn't start Tommy McCraw at first base. And I wouldn't be able to sleep nights if I didn't give McCraw his shot."

"How long I'll go with this line-up only the players can tell me. I think all managers shoot for a .500 mark in spring training. Our 21-7 record was coincidental."

"Of all the teams I saw in spring training, Minnesota impressed me the most. I can see how they won the pennant."

Cleveland Tough

"Detroit did not look as tough to me as our scouts indicated. Cleveland has a tough staff. Birdie Tebbets has knowledge of the league. That's an asset."

McNulty Goes To Burlington

Lachemann and Reynolds Also Sent to Minors

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Outfielder Manny Jimenez was added to the roster of the Kansas City Athletics, and 14 players were assigned to minor league teams.

Jimenez was purchased from the Mobile roster in the Southern League. To make room for the left-handed hitting outfielder, pitcher Don Buschhorn was assigned outright to Modesto of the California League.

In other changes, the A's assigned outfielder Tommy Reynolds, infielders Ted Kubiak and John Donaldson and pitchers Ron Thompson and Dick Joyce to Vancouver of the Pacific Coast League.

Going to Mobile are catcher Rene Lachemann, first baseman Randy Schwartz and pitchers Jim Nash, John (Blue Moon) Odom and Joe Bosworth. In addition to Buschhorn, Modesto receives catcher Dave Duncan and infielder Skip Lockwood. Infielder Bill McNulty was assigned to Burlington in the Midwest League.

Lachemann was the A's first-string catcher last season appearing in 102 games and batting .227. The only other player shipped out to see quite a bit of action with the A's last year was Reynolds, who played in 91 games, batting .238.

Falcons Acquire 2 Free Agents, Wilson and Boyd

ATLANTA (AP) — The Atlanta Falcons have announced acquisition of fullback Tom Wilson, a National Football League free agent and Benny Boyd, a rookie free agent.

Boyd is a former tackle at the University of Georgia. Last year he survived every cut but the last with the Dallas Cowboys and thus became a rookie again this season.

Wilson joins the new NFL club after four of duty with the Los Angeles Rams and the Minnesota Vikings, who cut him from their squad last season.

2 Soviet Matmen Die in Car Crash

MOSCOW (AP) — Two Olympic wrestling stars from the Soviet Union died in an automobile crash in the Caucasus Mountains of Soviet Georgia, Tass News Agency reported today.

The athletes, who had worked recently as coaches, were Avtandil Koridze, lightweight champion at the 1960 Olympics in Rome and 1961 world champion, and Roman Dzeladze, who won the third prize in the featherweight division at the Melbourne Olympics in 1956.

Tass did not give the date of the fatal accident.

county clerks be authorized to issue 75 per cent of the variable quota permits, instead of 50 per cent as in the past. It was felt this would give more local people a chance to hunt near their home for their "party deer."

The proposed plan to allow shooting of two pheasant cocks on opening weekend drew very little discussion. It was close to midnight when the question came up (it was the final item on the questionnaire) and the total vote was 18 in favor and 36 against.

Open Trout Lakes

Other proposals which the group voted in favor of included: opening all trout lakes to fishing through Feb. 15; establishing a bag limit of five lake trout by permit in Lake Superior, Michigan and Green Bay; opening Lake Michigan and Green Bay to a hook and line season with a bag limit of five on brook, brown and rainbow trout; eliminating the 13-inch size limit on walleyes and 18-inch limit on northerns in the northwest part of the state; and changing the hours for hunting small game and waterfowl only once a week and big game twice a month rather than daily.

Other proposals passed included: establishment of a statewide season on squirrels from Oct. 1 to Jan. 31; opening of the rabbit season statewide concurrent with pheasants Oct. 22; expansion of the hunting area for Hungarian partridge; continuation of the present archery plan for bow hunting of deer and a ruffed grouse season similar to past seasons.

Proposals which the group voted down included: the initiation of a fly-fishing-only section on the Brule River; opening of the trout fishing season at 5 a.m. on opening day; closing the bear season during the December bow and arrow season; opening of the early bear season in additional northern counties; a closed season on mink or muskrat and placing of raccoons on the unprotected list.

Use of Firearms

Another proposal which drew quite a bit of attention from the crowd was that which would permit the use of firearms in the landing of fish. Muskie fishermen initiated the proposal and after some debate, the permitting of the use of firearms was passed by a 92-26 margin.

County representatives named to attend the state session included Phil Sachs, Seymour, as a regular member of the committee and Norm Blohm, route 2, Seymour and Ken Diener, Kimberly, as alternates.

These representatives, and others whose terms did not expire, will take the county proposals and votes to the state session.

First Time Since 1883 in Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The scoreboard showed Pittsburgh scheduled to play the Braves, but there was no baseball at Milwaukee County Stadium today.

The stadium grandstand was empty. The only persons expected at the ball park were 21 county employees, most of them maintenance men.

In Good Repair They are at the park between 8 and 4 p.m., trying to keep the stadium and its grounds in good repair.

The stadium will have a major league tenant again in late summer, when the National Football League champion Packers return for another season splitting home games between Green Bay and Milwaukee.

Meanwhile, for the first time since 1883, Milwaukee will be without a professional baseball team of any kind.

Milwaukee had been the home of the Braves since 1953, and opening day had been a yearly highlight.

Even last season when the Braves played in Milwaukee only after making an abortive attempt to flee to Atlanta, more than 30,000 fans came out for the opener.

Nothing Special William Anderson, stadium manager, said nothing special was planned at the ball park today to mark the passing of the Braves.

"We'll have our regular main crew out carrying out a normal day's work," he said. "It'll just be another work day."

SPORT FANS! I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW By John Behnke

In past columns, we've talked about men playing sports despite such handicaps as the loss of an arm or leg, but we never mentioned blindness . . . Has any blind person ever played a competitive sport? . . . Perhaps the most courageous example was a boy named Bob Allman who learned to wrestle and became a star member of the University of Pennsylvania team . . . He not only wrestled effectively, but won several college wrestling championships! . . . He's probably the only blind man in history who has won sports championships competing against opponents who could see.

How many baseball fans know the real first name of the Cardinals' manager, Red Schoendienst? . . . Answer is Albert.

Here's one I bet you didn't know . . . There was one season in baseball history when a pitcher had to throw more than three strikes to get a strike-out! . . . Back in 1887, the rulesmakers decided to experiment . . . That season a batter was permitted FOUR strikes! . . . The rule lasted only one year.

Watson Seeks To Check Hull

Red Wings Utility Man One of Main Cogs for Detroit

By BERNIE KENNEDY
DETROIT (AP) — On paper, Bryan Watson apparently did little to help the Detroit Red Wings land a spot in this year's Stanley Cup playoffs.

The record shows Watson played all 70 regular season National Hockey League games and scored but two goals and seven assists.

But, as the Red Wings prepare to face the Chicago Black Hawks in the third game of their semifinal series tonight, Watson looms as one of the main cogs in the Detroit attack.

Watson, a 5-foot-10, 170 pound utilityman, faces the task of stopping Chicago's Bobby Hull while giving away 25 pounds.

The Red Wings used check and chase tactics in the first two games primarily to slow the Chicago attack.

Continue Tactics
Manager-Coach Sid Abel says he intends to have his players continue the tactics and to "stay mean."

"We have to play it rough against Chicago," Abel said. "It's our best chance . . . we just have to keep hitting them."

Hull, who set NHL records with 54 goals and 97 points during the regular season, was held to four shots on the net Sunday when the Red Wings evened the series at a game each with a 7-0 victory.

"We were just talking out there, throwing it back and forth at each other," Watson said in explaining his jabbing, pushing and talking to Hull while they were on the ice.

Gets Fired Up
"My job is to keep him off the scoreboard," Watson continued. "When he gets on he gets them fired up."

"Yeah I was out there to bother him. We wanted to win the game. I would have lassoed him if I had to."

Watson doubts that Hull was slowed by a knee injury Sunday.

"I chased him a couple of times and if his knee was slowing him up I'd sure hate to chase him when both his legs are sound."

Approximately 40 athletes will be invited to the camp, according to Joseph Scalzo of Toledo, National AAU wrestling chairman. ## MIDDLE IRONS KEY FOR PRACTICE

THE PRACTICE METHOD OF HITTING MIDDLE IRONS TO HELP CURE SHORT IRON TROUBLES CAN ALSO APPLY TO A LAGGING LONG IRON GAME.

THE BASIC CAUSE OF DIFFICULTY WITH LONG IRONS STEMS FROM THE ASSUMPTION THAT THESE CLUBS DEMAND SPEED-UP TEMPO AND A HARDER HIT. ACTUALLY, THE SWING, THOUGH SLIGHTLY LONGER, SHOULD BE EXACTLY OF THE SAME TEMPO AS THE SHORTER CLUB SWING.

SINCE TEMPO COMES EASIEST WITH THE MIDDLE IRONS, FIRST PRACTICE SHOTS USING A 4-5 OR 6 IRON, THEN WHEN THE SWING HAS SUICHOOTED OUT, GO BACK TO THE LONG IRON AND SWING THE SAME. KEEP SWITCHING FROM MIDDLE TO LONG IRON UNTIL TEMPO IS ESTABLISHED.

Catholic Priest Given Habit of Franciscan

Bishop Stanislaus V. Bona Is 5th Living Person to be Accorded Honor by Order

Post-Crescent News Service
PULASKI — Roman Catholic Bishop Stanislaus V. Bona of Green Bay accepted the brown habit of a Franciscan father Monday.

The bishop, 77, was adopted into the Order of Friars Minor by decree of the order's vicar general, Father Constantine Koser of Rome, for his friendliness and helpfulness to Franciscans.

The bishop, the fifth living person to be accorded the honor, is the head of the Green Bay Catholic Diocese.

Ceremony Attended
The ceremony at the headquarters of the Franciscans' Assumption provincial was attended by 150 clergy and more than 500 laymen.

Included in the audience were five members of Bishop Bona's family — his brothers, Dr. Adolph (and Adolph's wife) and Adam, and Adam's two daughters, all of Chicago.

Brown Cassock
Father Remigius, provincial head here, conducted the ceremony and presented the decree to Bishop Bona.

The bishop received the decree and the brown cassock, a cowl, rosary and white cord of the Franciscan friars.

More than 100 girls, pupils at Assumption Elementary School, led the processional into the church.

Bishop Bona will be included in the daily prayers of the more than 28,000 friars and may wear the brown habit if he wishes.

State Court Rules Firm May Use 'Engineer' Name

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — The Wisconsin Registration Board of Architects and Professional Engineers suffered a setback today when the State Supreme Court ruled that a corporation is not absolutely prohibited from using the word "engineers" in its formal name.

The court overturned a ruling of the Kenosha Circuit Court which had held, in a law suit brought by the State Registration Board, that a Kenosha television service was not entitled to use the word "engineers" in its name because it was not qualified to hold itself out for professional engineering services.

The Professional Licensing Board has been campaigning for restrictions for the protection of the professional engineers of the state that it represents.

Licensing Law
The Supreme Court said today that the licensing law was not enacted for the benefit of the persons licensed, but for the benefit and protection of the public.

The term "engineer" is not the same as "professional engineer" within the meaning of the state law, the Court wrote, and the prohibition in the law of the corporate practice of engineering or architecture does not apply unless a company holds itself out as offering professional services.

"Whether the use of the word 'engineer' or 'engineering' in a business title tends to convey the impression of practicing or offering to practice professional engineering must then be determined as a matter of fact by the circumstances of the case under consideration," the court said.

MIDDLE IRONS KEY FOR PRACTICE

THE BASIC CAUSE OF DIFFICULTY WITH LONG IRONS STEMS FROM THE ASSUMPTION THAT THESE CLUBS DEMAND SPEED-UP TEMPO AND A HARDER HIT. ACTUALLY, THE SWING, THOUGH SLIGHTLY LONGER, SHOULD BE EXACTLY OF THE SAME TEMPO AS THE SHORTER CLUB SWING.

SINCE TEMPO COMES EASIEST WITH THE MIDDLE IRONS, FIRST PRACTICE SHOTS USING A 4-5 OR 6 IRON, THEN WHEN THE SWING HAS SUICHOOTED OUT, GO BACK TO THE LONG IRON AND SWING THE SAME. KEEP SWITCHING FROM MIDDLE TO LONG IRON UNTIL TEMPO IS ESTABLISHED.

(FOR THESE REASONS, PRACTICE THE MIDDLE IRONS MOST.)

Bishop Stanislaus V. Bona Is 5th Living Person to be Accorded Honor by Order

Post-Crescent News Service
PULASKI — Roman Catholic Bishop Stanislaus V. Bona of Green Bay accepted the brown habit of a Franciscan father Monday.

The bishop, 77, was adopted into the Order of Friars Minor by decree of the order's vicar general, Father Constantine Koser of Rome, for his friendliness and helpfulness to Franciscans.

The bishop, the fifth living person to be accorded the honor, is the head of the Green Bay Catholic Diocese.

Ceremony Attended
The ceremony at the headquarters of the Franciscans' Assumption provincial was attended by 150 clergy and more than 500 laymen.

Included in the audience were five members of Bishop Bona's family — his brothers, Dr. Adolph (and Adolph's wife) and Adam, and Adam's two daughters, all of Chicago.

Brown Cassock
Father Remigius, provincial head here, conducted the ceremony and presented the decree to Bishop Bona.

The bishop received the decree and the brown cassock, a cowl, rosary and white cord of the Franciscan friars.

More than 100 girls, pupils at Assumption Elementary School, led the processional into the church.

Bishop Bona will be included in the daily prayers of the more than 28,000 friars and may wear the brown habit if he wishes.

Barn Nearly Lost but Skunk Wins

An abortive attempt to burn a skunk out of its burrow resulted in the near loss of a barn on the Vernon Ferron farm on the Outagamie and Brown County line at Crooked Road at approximately 3:15 p.m. Monday.

The Outagamie County Sheriff's Department reported the blaze was started by three teenage boys intending to rid the neighborhood of skunks. A strong wind swept flames across nearly 40 acres of grassland until it was finally brought under control just 10 to 15 feet short of the Ferron farm buildings.

The Town of Hobart Fire Department answered the alarm and assisted in bringing the fire under control. The teenagers fought the blaze by smothering flames with their jackets until firemen arrived. It was reported that the skunk survived the holocaust.

Stanky Doesn't Like To Platoon His Team

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP) — Eddie Stanky, the little guy with the piercing blue eyes and sincere confidence, returns to the managerial wars after an absence of more than 10 years.

Stanky, whose last and only managerial stint was terminated with the St. Louis Cardinals in May 1955, leads the Chicago White Sox against the California Angels today.

Armed with a 21-7 spring record, Stanky held a press conference after a brisk White Sox workout Monday and reporters from throughout the midwest failed to ask a single question that The Brat wasn't prepared to answer.

In rapid fire action, Stanky revealed what can be expected of him as a manager, his plans, his hopes and his knowledge of the American League.

Same 8 Men

"I'm not a platoon manager, I like to play the same eight men. When a team strikes out a lot, it takes the game out of the manager's hands.

"I went into spring training with an open mind. The men who showed me the most won the jobs. Knowing Moose Skowron as I do, I know he'd think less of me if I didn't start Tommy McCraw at first base. And I wouldn't be able to sleep nights if I didn't give McCraw his shot.

"How long I'll go with this line-up only the players can tell me. I think all managers shoot for a .500 mark in spring training. Our 21-7 record was coincidental.

"Of all the teams I saw in spring training, Minnesota impressed me the most. I can see how they won the pennant.

Cleveland Tough

"Detroit did not look as tough to me as our scouts indicated. Cleveland has a tough staff. Birdie Tebbetts has knowledge of the league. That's an asset.

McNulty Goes To Burlington

Lachemann and Reynolds Also Sent to Minors

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Outfielder Manny Jimenez was added to the roster of the Kansas City Athletics, and 14 players were assigned to minor league teams.

Jimenez was purchased from the Mobile roster in the Southern League. To make room for the left-handed hitting outfielder, pitcher Don Buschhorn was assigned outright to Modesto of the California League.

In other changes, the A's assigned outfielder Tommy Reynolds, infielders Ted Kubiak and John Donaldson and pitchers Ron Thompkins and Dick Joyce to Vancouwer of the Pacific Coast League.

Going to Mobile are catcher Rene Lachemann, first baseman Randy Schwartz and pitchers Jim Nash, John (Blue Moon) Odom and Joe Bosworth.

In addition to Buschhorn, Modesto receives catcher Dave Duncan and infielder Skip Lockwood. Infielder Bill McNulty was assigned to Burlington in the Midwest League.

Lachemann was the A's first-string catcher last season appearing in 102 games and batting .227. The only other player shipped out to see quite a bit of action with the A's last year was Reynolds, who played in 91 games, batting .238.

Falcons Acquire 2 Free Agents, Wilson and Boyd

ATLANTA (AP) — The Atlanta Falcons have announced acquisition of fullback Tom Wilson, a National Football League free agent and Benny Boyd, a rookie free agent.

Boyd is a former tackle at the University of Georgia. Last year he survived every cut but the last with the Dallas Cowboys and thus became a rookie again this season.

Wilson joins the new NFL club after tours of duty with the Los Angeles Rams and the Minnesota Vikings, who cut him from their squad last season.

Tass did not give the date of the fatal accident.

county clerks be authorized to issue 75 per cent of the variable quota permits, instead of 50 per cent as in the past. It was felt this would give more local people a chance to hunt near their home for their "party deer."

The proposed plan to allow shooting of two pheasant cocks on opening weekend drew very little discussion. It was close to midnight when the question came up (it was the final item on the questionnaire) and the total vote was 18 in favor and 36 against.

Open Trout Lakes

Other proposals which the group voted in favor of included: opening all trout lakes to fishing through Feb. 15; establishing a bag limit of five lake trout by permit in Lake Superior, Michigan and Green Bay; opening Lake Michigan and Green Bay to a hook and line season with a bag limit of five on brook, brown and rainbow trout; eliminating the 13-inch size limit on walleyes and 18-inch limit on northerns in the northwest part of the state; and changing the hours for hunting small game and waterfowl only once a week and big game twice a month rather than daily.

Other proposals passed included: establishment of a statewide season on squirrels from Oct. 1 to Jan. 31; opening of the rabbit season statewide concurrent with pheasants Oct. 22; expansion of the hunting area for Hungarian partridge; continuation of the present archery plan for bow hunting of deer and a ruffed grouse season similar to past seasons.

Proposals which the group voted down included: the initiation of a fly-fishing-only section on the Brule River; opening of the trout fishing season at 5 a.m. on opening day; closing the bear season during the December bow and arrow season; opening of the early bear season in additional northern counties; a closed season on mink or muskrat and placing of racoons on the unprotected list.

Use of Firearms

Another proposal which drew quite a bit of attention from the crowd was that which would permit the use of firearms in the landing of fish. Muskie fishermen initiated the proposal and after some debate, the permitting of the use of firearms was passed by a 92-26 margin.

County representatives named to attend the state session included Phil Sachs, Seymour, as a regular member of the committee and Norm Blohm, route 2, Seymour and Ken Diener, Kimberly, as alternates. These representatives, and others whose terms did not expire, will take the county proposals and votes to the state session.

Dobbs Uncertain About Accepting Army Grid Post

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Texas Western Athletic Director George McCarty said time was the biggest factor regarding his football coach, Bobby Dobbs, and the West Point position.

"I'm going on the assumption that the longer this hangs the better our chances are," said McCarty. "He hasn't made up his mind I don't know what he'll do."

Dobbs met last weekend with Army's Athletic Director Ray Murphy and talked with him on the telephone Monday about the West Point coaching post, vacated last week when Paul Dietzel resigned and became the South Carolina football coach.

"We're negotiating," said Dobbs about the telephone call. A spokesman at West Point, N.Y., said Monday night, "Ray Murphy will be in his office Tuesday and may make a decision at that time."

Time also seemed to be an important factor at West Point because spring training starts Saturday.

First Time Since 1883 in Milwaukee

Stadium Ready, but

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — smooth New padding covered the outfield fence. But no outfielders raced to the County Stadium wall today. The Braves have moved Atlanta.

The stadium grandstand was empty. The only persons expected at the ball park were county employees, most of the maintenance men.

In Good Repair

They are at the park between 8 and 4 p.m., trying to keep the stadium and its grounds in good repair.

The stadium will have a new for league tenant again in late summer, when the National Football League champion Packers return for another season splitting home games between Green Bay and Milwaukee.

Meanwhile, for the first time since 1883, Milwaukee will be without a professional baseball team of any kind.

Milwaukee had been the home of the Braves since 1953, an opening day had been a year's highlight.

Even last season when the Braves played in Milwaukee only after making an abortive attempt to flee to Atlanta, more than 30,000 fans came out for the opener.

Nothing Special

William Anderson, stadium manager, said nothing special was planned at the ball park today to mark the passing of the Braves.

"We'll have our regular maintenance crew out carrying out a normal day's work," he said. "It'll just be another work day."

SPORT FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By John Behnke

In past columns, we've talked about men playing sports despite such handicaps as the loss of an arm or leg, but we never mentioned blindness. . . . Has any blind person ever played a competitive sport? . . . Perhaps the most courageous example was a boy named Bob Allman who learned to wrestle and became a star member of the University of Pennsylvania team. . . . He not only wrestled effectively, but won several college wrestling championships! . . . He's probably the only blind man in history who has won sports championships competing against opponents who could see.

How many baseball fans know the real first name of the Cardinals' manager, Red Schoendienst? . . . Answer is Albert.

Here's one I bet you didn't know. . . . There was one season in baseball history when a pitcher had to throw more than three strikes to get a strike-out! . . . Back in 1887, the rulesmakers decided to experiment. . . . That season a batter was permitted FOUR strikes! . . . The rule lasted only one year.

I bet you didn't know. . . . We have a size 42 short new Tuxedo, regular 65.00 you may purchase for only $15.00.

Roberts, Osteen Clash Tonight

Lou Johnson Gets Starting Nod Over Tommy Davis

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Veteran Robin Roberts of Houston and Claude Osteen of Los Angeles, each hoping for better luck this season, take the mound tonight as the champion Dodgers begin defense of their laurels in the National League.

An opening night crowd of around 35,000 was expected in Dodger Stadium. Prospects were for balmy weather.

Roberts was 0-2 against the Dodgers in 1965 and Osteen was 1-2 with the Astros.

Houston was one of the favorite opponents of the Dodgers last year, Los Angeles winning 13 and losing but five to the Astros.

For the Dodgers, second baseman Nate Oliver will start in his attempt for the fourth year to stick with the club, while Lou Johnson, a key surprise in the 1965 winning season, gets the call over Tommy Davis in left field.

Osteen had a 15-15 record in his first year with Los Angeles. Nine of them came, however, after the All-Star break and figured heavily in the frantic pennant scramble.

Soviet, U. S. Boxers to Vie In 3 Matches

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet boxing team will meet a squad of U.S. amateur boxers for three matches in June, the newspaper Soviet Sport said today.

It said the matches would be the first time national amateur teams of the two countries would meet outside the Olympics. Apparently boxers in all weight divisions will be included in the competition.

The newspaper said the matches should have great interest as the two countries are the strongest amateur boxing powers in the world.

The Soviet youth newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda carried the same report and then added on its own.

"Of course the basis of American amateur boxing is constantly undermined by businessmen of professional sports enticing the talented athletes."

Stanky Doesn't Like To Platoon His Team

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP) — Eddie Stanky, the little guy with the piercing blue eyes and sincere confidence, returns to the managerial wars after an absence of more than 10 years.

Stanky, whose last and only managerial stint was terminated with the St. Louis Cardinals in May 1955, leads the Chicago White Sox against the California Angels today.

Armed with a 21-7 spring record, Stanky held a press conference after a brisk White Sox workout Monday and reporters from throughout the midwest failed to ask a single question that The Brat wasn't prepared to answer.

In rapid fire action, Stanky revealed what can be expected of him as a manager, his plans, his hopes and his knowledge of the American League.

Same 8 Men

"I'm not a platoon manager, I like to play the same eight men. When a team strikes out a lot, it takes the game out of the manager's hands."

"I went into spring training with an open mind. The men who showed me the most won the jobs. Knowing Moose Skowron as I do, I know he'd think less of me if I didn't start Tommy McCraw at first base. And I wouldn't be able to sleep nights if I didn't give McCraw his shot."

"How long I'll go with this line-up all the players can tell me. I think all managers shoot for a .500 mark in spring training. Our 21-7 record was coincidental."

"Of all the teams I saw in spring training, Minnesota impressed me the most. I can see how they won the pennant."

Cleveland Tough

"Detroit did not look as tough to me as our scouts indicated. Cleveland has a tough staff. Birdie Tebbetts has knowledge of the league. That's an asset."

McNulty Goes To Burlington

Lachemann and Reynolds Also Sent to Minors

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Outfielder Manny Jimenez was added to the roster of the Kansas City Athletics, and 14 players were assigned to minor league teams.

Jimenez was purchased from the Mobile roster in the Southern League. To make room for the left-handed hitting outfielder, pitcher Don Buschhorn was assigned outright to Modesto of the California League.

In other changes, the A's assigned outfielder Tommy Reynolds, infielders Ted Kubiak and John Donaldson and pitchers, Ron Thompsons and Dick Joyce to Vacoover of the Pacific Coast League.

Going to Mobile are catcher Rene Lachemann, first baseman Randy Schwartz and pitchers Jim Nash, John (Blue Moon) Odom and Joe Bosworth. In addition to Buschhorn, Modesto receives catcher Dave Duncan and infielder Skip Lockwood. Infielder Bill McNulty was assigned to Burlington in the Midwest League.

Lachemann was the A's first-string catcher last season appearing in 102 games and batting .227. The only other player shipped out to see quite a bit of action with the A's last year was Reynolds, who played in 91 games, batting .238.

Falcons Acquire 2 Free Agents, Wilson and Boyd

ATLANTA (AP) — The Atlanta Falcons have announced acquisition of fullback Tom Wilson, a National Football League free agent and Benny Boyd, a rookie free agent.

Boyd is a former tackle at the University of Georgia. Last year he survived every cut but the last with the Dallas Cowboys and thus became a rookie again this season.

Wilson joins the new NFL club after four of duty with the Los Angeles Rams and the Minnesota Vikings, who cut him from their squad last season.

2 Soviet Matmen Die in Car Crash

MOSCOW (AP) — Two Olympic wrestling stars from the Soviet Union died in an automobile crash in the Caucasus Mountains of Soviet Georgia, Tass News Agency reported today.

The athletes, who had worked recently as coaches, were Avtandil Koridze, lightweight champion at the 1960 Olympics in Rome and 1961 world champion, and Roman Dzeladze, who won the third prize in the featherweight division at the Melbourne Olympics in 1956.

Tass did not give the date of the fatal accident.

county clerks he authorized to issue 75 per cent of the variable quota permits, instead of 50 per cent as in the past. It was felt this would give more local people a chance to hunt near their home for their "party deer."

"The pleasant part of spring training was the way Gary Peters and Juan Pizarro were throwing. Peters had a had day Sunday but that doesn't concern me."

"I'm happy with this ball club. Everyone put out and the players worked harder than my greatest expectations."

"I notice very few writers picked us to win the pennant. I've kept count and it'll be interesting to see how many come around in October to tell me they picked the White Sox."

Open Trout Lakes

Other proposals which the group voted in favor of included: opening all trout lakes to fishing through Feb. 15; establishing a bag limit of five lake trout by permit in Lake Superior, Michigan and Green Bay; opening Lake Michigan and Green Bay to a hook and line season with a bag limit of five on brook, brown and rainbow trout; eliminating the 13-inch size limit on walleyes and 18-inch limit on northern pike in the northwest part of the state; and changing the hours for hunting small game and waterfowl only once a week and big game twice a month rather than daily.

Other proposals passed included: establishment of a statewide season on squirrels from Oct. 1 to Jan. 31; opening of the rabbit season statewide concurrent with pheasants Oct. 22; expansion of the hunting area for Hungarian partridge; continuation of the present archery plan for bow hunting of deer and a ruffed grouse season similar to past seasons.

Proposals which the group voted down included: the initiation of a fly-fishing-only section on the Brule River; opening of the trout fishing season at 5 a.m. on opening day; closing the bear season during the December bow and arrow season; opening of the early bear season in additional northern counties; a closed season on mink or muskrat and placing of raccoons on the unprotected list.

Use of Firearms

Another proposal which drew quite a bit of attention from the crowd was that which would permit the use of firearms in the landing of fish. Muskies fishermen initiated the proposal and after some debate, the permitting of the use of firearms was passed by a 92-26 margin.

County representatives named to attend the state session included Phil Sachs, Seymour, as a regular member of the committee and Norm Blohm, route 2, Seymour and Ken Diener, Kimberly, as alternates. These representatives, and others whose terms did not expire, will take the county proposals and votes to the state session.

Dobbs Uncertain About Accepting Army Grid Post

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Texas Western Athletic Director George McCarty said time was the biggest factor regarding his football coach, Bobby Dobbs, and the West Point position.

"I'm going on the assumption that the longer this hangs the better our chances are," said McCarty. "He hasn't made up his mind I don't know what he'll do."

Dobbs met last weekend with Army's Athletic Director Ray Murphy and talked with him on the telephone Monday about the West Point coaching post, vacated last week when Paul Dietzel resigned and became the South Carolina football coach.

"We're negotiating," said Dobbs about the telephone call. A spokesman at West Point, N.Y., said Monday night, "Ray Murphy will be in his office Tuesday and may make a decision at that time."

Time also seemed to be an important factor at West Point because spring training starts Saturday.

Vice President Hubert Humphrey rears back to make the throw opening the 66th American League baseball season Monday. His toss barely reached the waiting Cleveland and Washington players. Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien is at left. Cleveland won, 5-2. (AP Wirephoto)

First Time Since 1883 in Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The scoreboard showed Pittsburgh scheduled to play the Braves, but there was no baseball at Milwaukee County Stadium today.

The stadium grandstand was empty. The only persons expected at the ball park were 21 county employees, most of them maintenance men.

Sox, Grady Hatton of the Astros and Al Dark of the Athletics.

All undoubtedly are hoping to make more successful debuts than the one made by relief pitcher Hubert Humphrey at Washington. The vice president, subbing for President Johnson, threw out the first ball at the Indians-Senators game and LBJ's administration came up a three-time loser.

In the big ones today, the Twins and Dodgers open defense of their championships and the Braves begin their first southern campaign after a day-long series of ceremonies.

Biggest Winner

The Twins will send Jim (Mudcat) Grant, the biggest winner in the AL last year and one of the league's biggest holdouts this year, against Jim (Calfish) Hunter of Kansas City.

The Dodgers will start Claude Osteen, who gets the opening assignment while holdouts Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale continue to try and catch up.

The Astros will give veteran Robin Roberts the honor of pitching his 13th opener.

At Atlanta, meanwhile, businesses and schools will be closed during the afternoon for a downtown parade, then 50,000 people are expected to march on Atlanta Stadium. Tony Cloninger will start for the Braves and Bob Veale for the Pirates.

By that time the Braves should know the result of the court trial aimed at returning the team to Milwaukee.

"We will do a lot better on the field against Pittsburgh," predicted Braves board chairman Bill Bartholomay, "than we expect to do in Wisconsin courts."

Leaders Hold Positions in ABC Tourney

Duo From Chicago Places Second in Regular Doubles

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A flurry of high scores shook up the standings, but failed to dislodge the leader Monday in the American Bowling Congress Tournament.

Ray Johnson and Gordy Baer of Chicago moved into second place in regular doubles with a 1,330 series.

The runners-up rolled games of 437, 463 and 430 in a strong bid to overtake Tony Lofcano and Bob Kwiecien of Detroit, who have led the regular doubles since April 3 with 1,351.

Johnson, a 22-year-old civil engineer, contributed 682, while Baer had 648.

Baer also claimed fourth place in regular all-events with 1,932. In addition to his doubles series, he rolled 669 in the team event and 615 in singles.

Strong Position Baer appeared to be in a strong position to challenge John Wilcox of Williamsport, Pa., who is the all-events division leader with 2,004. But Baer dropped to 164 in his final game of the singles.

Bob Pitzer of Newcastle, Pa., fired the best series of his 10-year bowling career, 702, to move into sixth place in regular singles. The 30-year-old mailman rolled games of 248, 191 and 267.

Ernie Koche of Chicago has led the regular singles since April 1 with 728.

John Rogers and Joe Signorelli of Lafayette, Ind., tied for second place in classic doubles with a 1,428 total. Signorelli, 26, a supermarket manager, set the pace with 642.

Beich, Fenn (7) and Huset, Pennland, Robinson (8) and Dyck and Sam Jones, all of Boston, or W-Pennland L-Bich HR — third place in classic singles. The classic division is reserved for professional bowlers.

SPORT FANS!

By John Behnke

In past columns, we've talked about men playing sports despite such handicaps as the loss of an arm or leg, but we never mentioned blindness. . . . Has any blind person ever played a competitive sport? . . . Perhaps the most courageous example was a boy named Bob Allman who learned to wrestle and became a star member of the University of Pennsylvania team. . . . He not only wrestled effectively, but won several college wrestling championships! . . . He's probably the only blind man in history who has won sports championships competing against opponents who could see.

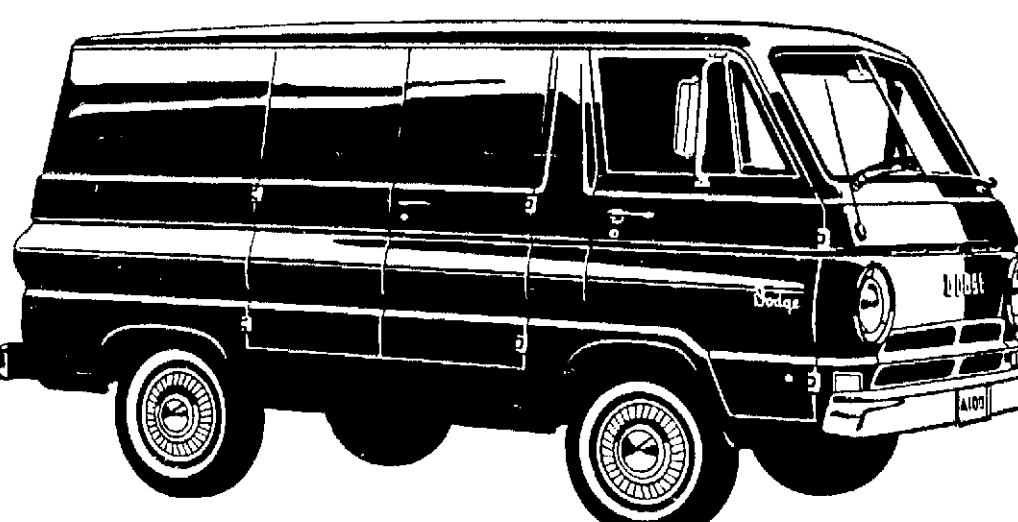

How many baseball fans know the real first name of the Cardinals' manager, Red Schoendienst? . . . Answer is Albert.

Here's one I bet you didn't know. . . . There was one season in baseball history when a pitcher had to throw more than three strikes to get a strike-out! . . . Back in 1887, the rulesmakers decided to experiment. . . . That season a batter was permitted FOUR strikes! . . . The rule lasted only one year.

I bet you didn't know. . . . We have one size 42 short new Tuxedo, regular 65.00 you may purchase for only $15.00.

State Okays Funds For WSU-O Projects

$190,875 for Arts Building, Physical Education Layout

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Building and development projects totaling $190,875 for the campus of Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh were approved Monday by the state building commission.
The four Oshkosh appropriations — part of a $2,230,430 package approved for state universities — include funds for purchasing land for a fine arts building and for a physical education field.
Also included are funds for installing a new elevator in Harrington Hall and for constructing an underground transfer room to replace unused maintenance and heating facilities.
Action was delayed on a request for $16,500 to repair a swimming pool and to construct storage facilities in the physical education building.
In March the commission approved the purchase of 12 parcels of land for the site of the new fine arts building. Three of those parcels will cost $79,825 according to the State Board of Regents.
The repairs to Harrington Hall include installing a new elevator, repairing the roof of the one-story portion of the building, repairing the brick parapet wall and repairing the central stairs in the building. A total of $40,000 has been authorized for the entire project.
The underground transfer room, added to the original plan by a commission subcommittee, will be built under the unused maintenance buildings; the university plans to remove. The original request of $25,000 was increased to $35,000 to allow for the transformer room.

Brown County Seeks Bonds For Runways

GREEN BAY — The Brown County Board will be asked next Tuesday to authorize an $850,000 bond issue for extension of runways at Austin Straubel Field to accommodate jet traffic. The board's finance committee Monday night unanimously accepted the recommendation of the airport committee for the work.
The $1,172,089 project financed by FAA, Wisconsin and county funds will extend the northeast southwest runway from its present 5,200 feet to 7,700 feet to handle North Central DC 9s due to fly in April 1967 and other jet traffic including the 707s and the 727s.
The county's share for runway construction land acquisition, buildings, facilities and lighting will come to $751,602. The state will provide $30,000. The federal grant is $390,487.
In addition the airport committee recommended spending $63,398 for another snow removal unit to take care of the runway addition. It also recommended spending $25,000 for sewer water landing ramp, lighting and other services for a second fixed-based operation similar to that run by the Green Bay Aviation Co. The committee asked that $10,000 be spent for landscaping the entrance to Austin Straubel Field.

Boat Safety Program Scheduled April 19 at Einstein Junior High

A small craft safety training program has been scheduled at Einstein Junior High School at 6 p.m. April 19.
There are 265,000 boats registered in the state with about 1,000,000 persons active in boat.

Knowles Cites Rise in Handicapped Persons Employed in Wisconsin

GREEN BAY (AP) — Eleven per cent more handicapped people were placed in productive employment.
The clinic has been organized because a large portion of the boaters have not been insured in safety programs and mishaps are not uncommon, according to authorities.
This clinic is sponsored by the Appleton Public Schools, Conservation Department, Department of Public Instructions, Cooperative Education Service, Agency No. 8, Red Cross and Wisconsin Council of Safety.

Philippine Official Wants Meeting on Asia's 'Other War'

Marcos Says Summit Would Be Fruitless Without Agreement

By STANLEY M. SWINTON
MANILA (AP) — Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos called today for a foreign ministers' meeting to seek a way to end Asia's other war, the Indonesian-Malaysian "confrontation."

Marcos proposed a meeting of the foreign ministers of Malaysia, Indonesia, the Philippines "and other Asian countries if they are interested."

He said it would be fruitless for himself, President Sukarno of Indonesia and Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman of Malaysia to hold a summit session unless the foreign ministers could find a basis for agreement.

Estes Testifies In Hearing on Trial Request

Farm Finance Whiz Faces Examination On Monday Claims

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Billie Sol Estes faces cross-examination today over statements that loan companies, plus scores of individuals, had plotted with him to deal in worthless mortgages involving millions.

Estes, onetime whiz kid of farm finance, spied off one name after another Monday of firms and people he accused of agreeing secretly to such transactions.

Almost before court recessed for the evening, spokesmen for a number of finance corporations disputed Estes' recital. He finished direct testimony just before the end of the first day of a hearing on his motion for a new trial, leaving cross-examination by government counsel for today.

Broke Silence
Taking the stand for only the second time in three criminal trials, the West Texas promoter broke four years of silence on transactions in mortgages on mythical fertilizer tanks, in an effort to win release from the Leavenworth, Kan., federal prison.

He has served about 15 months of a 15-year term for mail fraud and conspiracy.

Estes, now 41 and almost skinny in contrast to his former plumpness, was brought here under guard to appear before U.S. Dist. Judge Leo Brewster. Estes and his lawyers contend his mail fraud and conspiracy conviction should be wiped out because, they say, a government witness lied at Estes' trial here three years ago, and also that knowledge of all parties that there were no fertilizer tanks to secure mortgages on hundreds of them made fraud impossible.

Youth Claims He Did Not Intend to Set Fire to Himself

NEW YORK (AP) — Arthur Zimmer, 20, says a gasoline dousing was as far as he planned to go when he appeared in front of the White House with fuel and matches after threatening to set himself on fire.

"I had no intention of burning myself," he said Monday. "It was a publicity stunt."

He planned the hoax, he said, to dramatize his opposition to U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

Zimmer, a Boston University student, was grabbed in front of the White House Sunday by detectives as he poured gasoline on himself from a plastic bottle.

He was taken to a hospital for mental observation and released Monday.

Rusk Disputes DeGaulle Claim On NATO Pact

Secretary Says Withdrawal Hits at Agreement's Heart

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk has sharply disputed French President Charles de Gaulle's argument that France can properly end its military agreements with the United States because they are out of date.

Rusk says this thesis "strikes at the very heart of the sanctity of international agreements."

The comments, in an interview granted last week to the French magazine Paris-Match, were released by the State Department today as the United States replied to De Gaulle's demand for removal of American military installations from French soil.

Delivery of the note, reported by reliable sources here to make much the same points in more diplomatic style, was arranged for today in Paris.

"The United States has more than 4,000 agreements with other nations," Rusk told the magazine. "We are concerned about actions which would weaken the growing fabric of international law."

Inmates Riot At Reformatory In Maryland

BREATHESVILLE, Md. (AP) — A riot by about 400 prisoners at the Maryland Reformatory for Men was brought under control about 7:30 a.m. today but reports from the scene indicate the situation is still explosive.

Warden Trenton L. Fitzburger said he had no idea of the grievances of the men, who began rioting in the dining hall about 5:30 a.m., before a number of them barricaded themselves in a cell block.

Two prisoners and several guards were taken to Washington County Memorial Hospital in nearby Hagerstown, but none of the injuries were believed to be serious.

Fitzburger ordered that feeding be resumed after about half of the 400 returned to their cells. He conferred with prisoners before making his statement about grievances.

Indonesia Faces Austerity Project

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Indonesia's new government admitted today that the nation's economy is in chaos and promised a tough austerity program. Sultan Hamengku Buwono, the economic affairs minister, said the government owes $2.4 billion in foreign debts, there is no money in the treasury, exports are still falling, and prices may increase 1,000 per cent this year if not checked.

53,000 Workers Strike

Coal Miners Ignore Back-to-Work Rule

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Most of the striking miners in the soft coal fields stayed away from their jobs today despite a union back-to-work order.

But there was one tiny crack in the work stoppage. Some 190 miners went back to the Thunderbird Collieries near Sheldahl, Ind.

And in Ohio a continued shutdown of the mines was blamed chiefly on delay in receipt of the back-to-work order issued by officials of the United Mine Workers Union.

Elsewhere, a number of locals called meetings to discuss the walkout.

About 53,000 miners in nine states were on strike in the biggest walkout in the soft coal fields since 1950.

Started Monday
The strike started early Monday over the failure of the union and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association to reach agreement on a new contract in Washington.

Telegrams signed by Union President W. A. (Tony) Boyle and other union officers went out Monday to all union districts ordering the strikers back to work.

Last Friday, Boyle said the union considered itself "at liberty to strike at any time" because the union had no contract with the association.

Officials Huddle
With the strike under way, union officials huddled in Washington before the back-to-work directive was issued.

Later, Boyle met with president Edward G. Fox of the coal association after a meeting of the association's five-man executive committee.

B52s Strike North for First Time

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Air Force B52s struck North Viet Nam for the first time today, raining hundreds of tons of explosives on a strategic mountain pass. A spokesman said it was one of the largest B52 raids of the war.

While the United States escalated the air war against the north, a Viet Cong battalion mauled an American rifle company in the heavy jungles 40 miles east of Saigon. An Army spokesman reported heavy casualties, indicating perhaps a third or more of the GIs were killed or wounded. A rifle company at full strength has 178 men.

Savage Assault
The 1st Infantry Division men were savagely assaulted from all sides while on a multibridge search — Operation Abilene — in thick jungle where the Communists have held out since the days of French rule.

They were hit with mortars, recoilless rifles and small arms fire after part of the infantry probe killed five members of a Viet Cong platoon in a brisk fight.

The battle Monday night lasted five hours. Helicopters were unable to bring out the dead and wounded until engineers chopped clearings in the forest today.

The eight-engine bombers went north after more than 200 raids on Viet Cong targets below the 17th Parallel. They hammered at the Mu Gia Pass, a funnel for men and arms to the south.

No Assessment
A U.S. spokesman did not give an assessment of damage or the number of planes involved, but they probably dropped a half million pounds of bombs or more on their target.

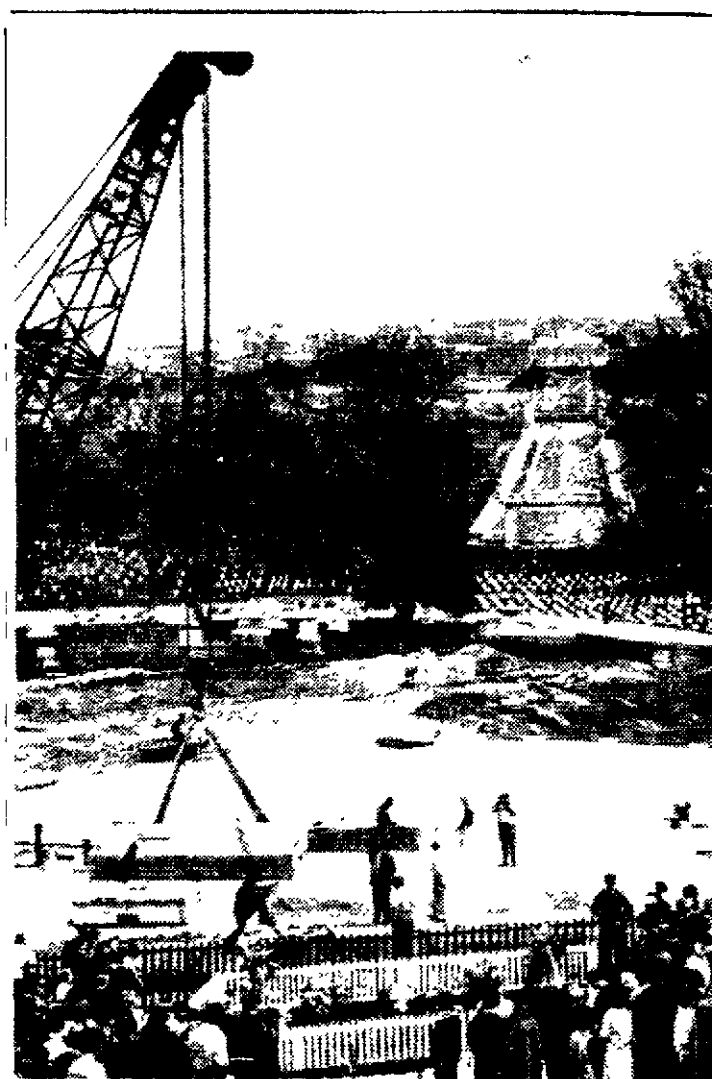

Other Air Force and Navy planes flew a total of 36 missions against the Communist north Monday, hitting storage areas, railroad facilities, bridges and shipping.

Navy pilots reported destroying 13 junks and damaging 13 more, wrecking 13 boxcars and smashing 6 warehouses and 8 trucks within a 36-mile radius of Vinh.

Air Force jets roared over the Dien Bien Phu area, in northwestern North Viet Nam, as well as Vinh. Pilots reported destroying three storage buildings near Son La, 54 miles east of Dien Bien Phu, four more in a staging zone 45 miles to the east, and setting four more aflame nearby. They also said they destroyed 20 buildings and damaged five at Bung Cha, 74 miles southwest of Vinh, and damaged three roads and a pontoon bridge.

No Explanation
The U.S. spokesman did not explain why the decision had been made to send the Guam-based bombers north. But it is known the U.S. Military Command is highly pleased with the saturation bombings in the south, both as a military weapon.

Little They Can Do About It

Viet Nam Political Scene Frustrates U.S. Officials

AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Frustrated American officials see little they can do about the political violence in South Viet Nam except to ride out the storm and hope for the best.

Some talk has cropped up here, attributed to angry military men who want to get on with the war, that if order cannot be restored soon by quarrelsome political factions, then the United States will be faced with a choice between taking control of the political situation or pulling out of the country.

State and Defense Department authorities deny emphatically that any such extreme courses are under consideration.

Deeply Worried
Behind the public posture of calm confidence, however, officials are deeply worried about the consequences of continued turmoil on military operations and on prolonging the Vietnamese war.

There is concern here about the anti-Americanism and complaints of war-weariness which emerge in the demonstrations and the possibilities for exploitation of trouble by Communist agents in the crisis centers.

But U.S. officials describe as heartening the fact that Buddhist and other powerful political forces in South Viet Nam are reported to be strongly anti-Communist.

U.S. policy on the political crisis is defined as one of giving advice but not trying to dictate or impose a solution.

Mail Order Companies

State Supreme Court Upholds Insurance Law

MADISON (AP) — The Wisconsin Supreme Court upheld today the validity of a 1961 state law regulating mail order insurance companies licensed in another state.

The decision affirmed a ruling by Circuit Judge Norris Maloney of Dane County subjecting Ministers Life and Casualty Union of Minneapolis to Wisconsin insurance standards and taxation.

McCarran Act
Justice E. Harold Hallows, who wrote the majority opinion, said passage of the 1959 McCarran Act assured the regulatory authority of states despite interstate commerce and government supremacy clauses in the U.S. Constitution.

"This act left to the states the regulation and taxation of insurance, stating such continual regulation was in the public interest and that silence on the part of Congress should not be construed to impose any barrier to state regulation or taxation," Hallows said, adding:

"It has been said the act merely rendered unto Caesar the things which belong to Caesar."

Ministers issues four kinds of insurance—group life, individual life, franchised-group accident and health, and individual accident and health.

Not Insignificant
"The business done by Ministers is not insignificant, although compared with large stock companies it would hardly be considered impressive," the court said.

In 1955, the firm collected

Buddhists Cold-Shoulder Preparatory Congress On Writing Constitution

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam's military government pledged today to hold elections as soon as a constitution is drafted and the election machinery set up. But the Buddhist opposition cold-shouldered the preparatory congress at which the offer was made.

Addressing an assemblage of representatives the junta had convened from throughout the nation to start progress toward civilian rule, the chief of state, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, declared the ruling generals want to turn over power to civilians "in the shortest time possible."

Informed Vietnamese sources said this could be within a month or two depending on how long it takes to write a constitution and create the election machinery.

Suggest Formula
With Premier Nguyen Cao Ky and four other members of the 10-man ruling directorate attending, Thieu suggested a possible formula for a National Assembly: half of the members could be elected, the others appointed from the provinces.

The Buddhist leadership underscored its boycott of the congress by demanding that "the U.S. government at once end its support for the Thieu-Ky military clique." A communique issued by the Unified Buddhist

Church in the name of Buddhists in the army's northernmost 1st Corps area charged that the junta intended to wage "a civil war with U.S. backing" to hang onto power.

Crash Fatal To Policeman

Milwaukeean Dies Of Injuries in Oshkosh Accident

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Richard C. Eberhardt, 24-year-old Milwaukee policeman, died today at Mercy Hospital in Oshkosh of head injuries suffered early Monday when his car overturned five times. The accident happened after the small foreign car struck a median strip on Highway 41 about three miles south of Oshkosh.

George Frank Brom, 69, Chicago, Ill., was struck by a pickup truck Monday evening as he crossed U.S. 18 at an intersection west of the Milwaukee suburb of Brookfield. He died an hour later in a Waukesha hospital.

Brom was superintendent of passenger service in Chicago for the Chicago & North Western Railway.

Ukrainian Immolates Self in Russia

MOSCOW (AP) — A young truckdriver from the Ukraine burned himself to death in a central Moscow square after Soviet authorities would not let him fight in Viet Nam, Russian sources said today.

The sources said Nikolai Didyk, 26, poured gasoline on his head about 8 p.m. last Thursday in front of a big children's store, set himself aflame, and ran into the street with his arms spread wide, stopping traffic.

They reported Didyk's wife said he had been "obsessed with the war in Viet Nam."

The sources said Didyk's immolation occurred in Dzerzhinsky Square, in view of Lubianka Prison, headquarters of the Soviet secret police. They reported passersby seized the young man, put the fire out and called an ambulance.

The sources said he died Sunday in Burdenko military hospital.

Lawrence University Set for $48,847 Grant For Study Program

Project to Include 50 Youngsters From Low Income Families in Greater Milwaukee

Lawrence University will receive a $48,847 federal grant for its "Upward Bound" project, Sargeant Shriver, director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, announced Monday.

Aim of the project is to provide high school aged students, primarily sophomores and juniors from low income families, an opportunity for a college education by remedying poor academic preparation and helping the youths develop motivation.

50 Youngsters

Under the Lawrence project, 50 youngsters will be chosen, primarily from the Greater Milwaukee area, to participate in a summer study program. After the summer program, the students will return to their respective schools where they will receive counseling throughout the year and their progress will be checked on a continuing basis.

Next summer, the students, who will have graduated from high school, will return to Lawrence to receive additional preparatory courses and counseling for college.

Lawrence's share in financing the program will be approximately $5,649. The school had requested a $56,192 grant.

The summer, 1967, phase of the program will be financed through federal funds given to the Community Relations-Social Development Commission of Greater Milwaukee (SDC). Last month the DC approved the Lawrence project and committed a portion of its 1967 budget to the 1967 phase of the helping the youths develop motivation.

New London School Lunch Plan Wins Board Approval

Architect to Set Specifications For Kitchen, Other Equipment

NEW LONDON — The board of education, backed by last week's referendum vote, decided Monday to proceed with developing a school hot lunch program.

Ten bids were received on equipment for the industrial arts classrooms in the new high school. Bids covered single items of equipment up to an entire room layout. Bids will be reviewed and broken down into individual items before a decision is made.

Sell School

The board voted to offer the Northport School to the Town of Mukwa before taking any other action on disposing of the building. It will be closed after the current school year.

The building's value was set at $4,000 to $5,000 by a group of appraisers hired by the school district.

The administrations will prepare bids and quotations on desks, tables, chairs and other miscellaneous equipment for the new senior high school.

Hot Lunch

Estimates are that 1,500 to 1,600 children will participate in the hot lunch program.

Cost of the project will be $80,000, not including cost estimates for operation.

Program Estimates

Estimates are $19,200 for completing the area in the new high school for kitchen and cafeteria; $52,750 for kitchen and cafeteria equipment, and $8,000 for tables and a truck for deliveries to outlying schools.

Cost of preparing meals and charges for meals have not been determined.

Participating physicians are Dr. F. P. Larme, Dr. A. C. Engel, Dr. Kenneth Humke, Dr. Julio de Arleaga, Dr. James Pinney, Dr. John Knauf and Dr. James Knauf.

Blank was unable to pay a $58 fine.

Willing to Take Abuse And Pressure

Gov. Warren Knowles Monday defended his role and the activities of other state government officials involved in the selection of the Green Bay "Shorewood site" for the new northeastern branch campus of the University of Wisconsin.

"We're willing to take all the abuse and pressure we get," the governor said, "because we know in conscience that we have done the right thing."

Speaking at a meeting of the Appleton Lions Club at the Conway Hotel, Knowles told about 200 representatives of the Lions, other civic clubs and Fox Cities governments that, "to delay the project would mean damaging the educational future of all the children in the area."

Bridge, Roads Needed

While fielding a series of questions, Knowles said the estimated $40 million cost in bridges and highways to serve the east-side Green Bay school is not a valid point to be used in criticizing the site selection "because Mr. (G. H.) Bakke, chairman of the State Highway Commission, says the roads will have to be built in the long-run whether the school is located there or not."

The governor also said that he doesn't believe the Shorewood site was selected before the selection committee headed by

Court Spector Collapses, Taken To Hospital

Richard Abel, 68, 221 N. State St., a long-time courtroom spectator, collapsed on the third floor of the Outagamie County courthouse about 10 a.m. today. Abel was rushed to Appleton Memorial Hospital where hospital sources reported his condition as "not critical."

Abel had just left a county courtroom when he collapsed. Members of the Outagamie County Sheriff's Department administered oxygen, using a portable unit, until Lindy's Ambulance Service aides arrived.

Abel was the second courtroom spectator to collapse at the courthouse during the past five days. Last Thursday Albert Christel, 57, of 629 S. Story St., collapsed after attending a Circuit Court case. Christel was returned to his home by Larry's Ambulance Service after a brief check-up at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Christel also has been a regular attendee at courthouse happenings for several years.

Recount Reverses Election

Egan Now Wins Waupaca County District No. 1 Seat by 2 Votes

WAUPACA — Kenneth Egan, route 3, New London, who lost a county supervisor seat in District No. 1 twice last week, ended up winning the seat Monday by a two-vote margin after the ballots from three precincts were recounted by the board of canvassers.

Election night Arnold Dretke was named to the post by a one vote margin. Thursday the canvassing board checked the election tally sheets, discovered an error and declared the election a tie. Friday afternoon the canvassers flipped three coins and Dretke was again named the winner.

Following the coin tossing session, Egan petitioned for a recount. The final count announced by the board of canvassers board Monday was 240 votes for Egan and 238 for Dretke.

Board Members

Members of the board who recounted the ballots were County Clerk Robert Backer, M. C. Freiburger and Mrs. Esther McCarthy.

The other county supervisors' seat in the district was won last Tuesday by Henry Kreklow who received 296 votes.

Both Egan and Dretke are 15-year veterans of the old County Board of Supervisors. Egan represented the Town of Lebanon and Dretke, the Town of Union. Kreklow is the former supervisor from the Town of Bear Creek. The three towns were combined under the reapportionment program and will now be represented by only two supervisors.

Last of the manual switchboards, tended faithfully by Mrs. Charles Diver at the Nelsonville exchange of the Amherst Telephone Co., will be replaced soon by automatic central exchange equipment. The move is part of dial conversion.

A new masonry building has been erected for the Nelsonville exchange. While waiting for the dial equipment to arrive, the manual switchboard has been moved into the basement of the building.

There has been a folksy air about the Nelsonville exchange. Businessmen who have to leave the store for a few minutes, have been telling the operator where they're going. She switches calls accordingly.

LaFollette Not Sure on Eyeing Governor's Job

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Atty. Gen. Bronson C. LaFollette says he has not committed himself on the possibility that he might run for governor this year.

The publication also suggested that LaFollette felt that supporters of David Carley and Lt. Gov. Patrick J. Lucey were leading the state party into a "suicidal race" for governor "where the only possible winner can be Gov. Knowles."

Severe Spring Breakup Waupaca Roads Hit Hard

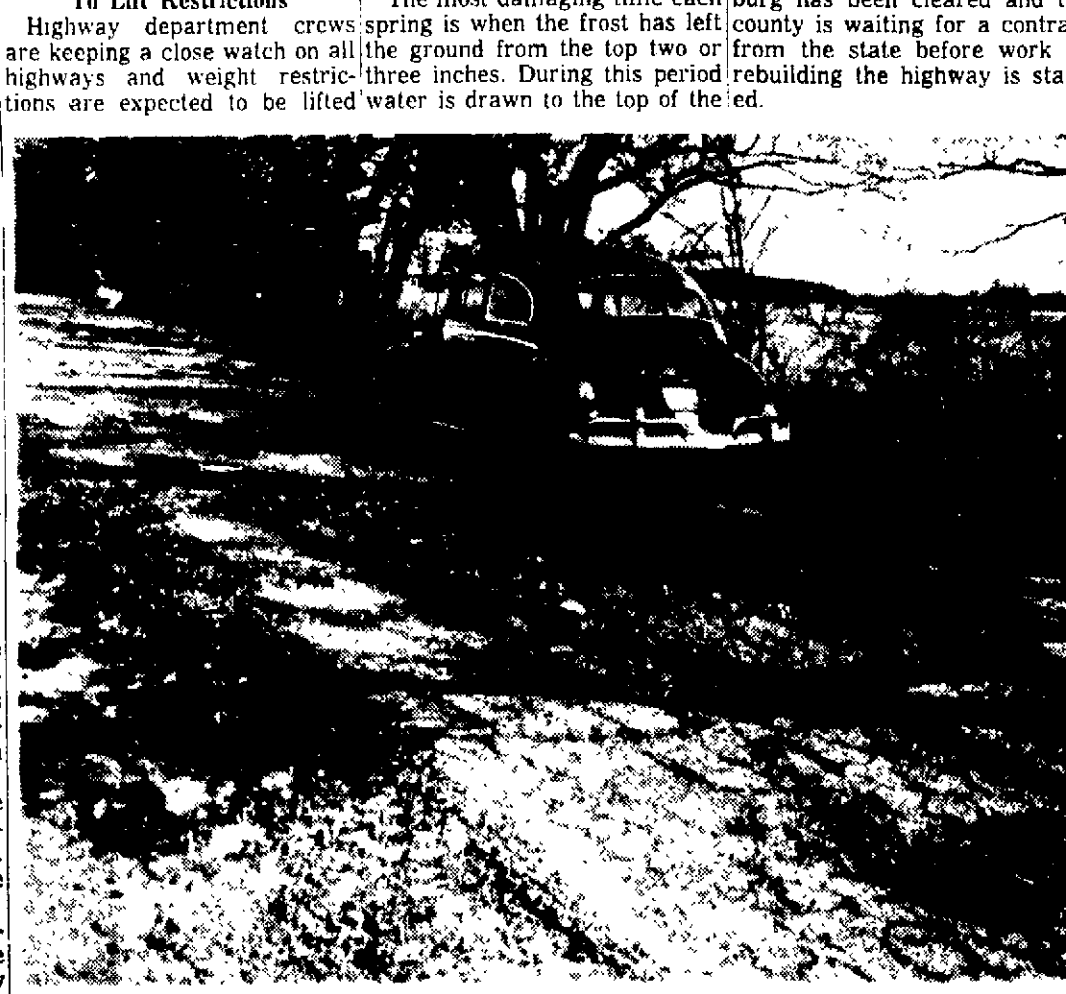

WAUPACA — The break-up of this coming weekend on some of the roads built over sandy soil, has been more severe this year than in the past several years, according to Fred Grunwald, county highway commissioner.

Heavy rains last fall which saturated the roadbeds, then froze, plus travel by heavy vehicles this spring are the primary factors in the break-up of the blacktop roads. Grunwald said.

State and federal highways hardest hit are State 49 in the northern part of the county and U.S. 45 between New London and Bear Creek. County trunks T and O on the eastern side of the county are the two county roads that suffered the most damage during the break-up, he said. In the Town of Matteson, several town roads had to be closed in the Embarrass area because of severe break-up.

Blazes Scorch Pine Trees, Land Near Waupaca

WAUPACA — Waupaca firemen were called to extinguish three grass fires Monday, two outside the city and the third on the east side between the Soo Line railroad tracks and the Waupaca Country Club driveway.

The first call was at 10:29 a.m. from the George Seuel home, three miles north of here on Ware Road, where fire spread from a pile of burning rubbish and burned over about a half acre of dry grass. There was no damage.

At 1:06 p.m., firemen were called to the Herman Keller home, five miles south of here near Stratton Lake where fire had spread from a garbage burner to a nearby pine grove. Before firemen could bring the blaze under control, approximately 50 large pine trees were damaged.

A few pine trees also were damaged in the fire near the Country Club. The fire started about 4:20 p.m. Cause of the fire has not been determined. Fire Chief Robert Hansen said.

New London Blood Quota 120 Pints

Returns From Viet Nam

Student Admires Troops; Understands Picketing

A Lawrence University student who was there bears no resentment toward anti-Viet Nam war pickets and nothing but admiration for the American troops and volunteer workers who are on the front in Southeast Asia.

Edward C. Logelin III, Chicago, is at Lawrence studying drama after seeing plenty of it during five months of duty as information specialist in Viet Nam.

"I didn't see a soft American in Viet Nam," Logelin said. "You're never in trouble — your buddy is, even though you're only a few feet from him. Everybody helps everybody else because you're all on the same team. For every medal awarded there are a dozen cases of heroism that go unnoticed."

That kind of spirit makes it somewhat difficult for service-

Ed Logelin agreed to tell of his experiences in Viet Nam because he wanted to help the Outagamie Red Cross in its annual fund drive. Part of the money raised in the drive, now nearing its conclusion, is used to finance Red Cross efforts in assisting the men in Viet Nam and their families. Contributions may be sent to the Outagamie Red Cross, 110 E. North St., Appleton.

men to understand the attitude and actions of some of those who oppose U.S. policy in Viet Nam, Logelin said. As his group of Viet Nam-bound troops left the U.S., they were greeted by signs which read, "More hired killers for Viet Nam." The troops reacted first in anger, he said, but they they came to recognize the right of those opposing government policy to speak — as long as they live up to their responsibilities.

"None of us wanted to fight or die, either," he said, "but it's a price we have to pay for being American."

Logelin, son of a U.S. Steel official who set up the U.S. Steel Hour on radio, developed an early interest in the stage, radio and writing. At one time he thought of entering the ministry, but decided his talents could be better utilized as a layman. A Presbyterian, he

Home Show to Run Five Days At Valley Fair

Knights of Pythias, Merchants Sponsor Annual Exhibit

The Home and Boat Show, sponsored by the Knights of Pythias and merchants at Valley Fair, is scheduled to start Wednesday for a five-day run on the mall and parking area of the shopping center.

Co-chairmen for the event are Wilmer Borchardt, Knights Committee coordinator, and David Meyer, Valley Fair merchants Committee.

Exhibitors list more than 40 Fox Cities firms, the largest representation in the show's history. Authorities said every inch of the mall is taken and many exhibits will be in the parking area.

Daily Prizes
Twenty-five baskets of groceries will be given away during the five-day show. Entry blanks are being published by the Post-Crescent or they may be obtained from stores in the center, authorities said.

Awards will be given by many of the exhibitors in contests conducted from individual booths. Souvenirs, literature and demonstrations will be given to visitors.

An inlaid table and six chairs, valued at $10,000, will be displayed by Harvey Hansen, route 2, Fremont. The table and chairs, blended with more than 100,000 pieces of rare wood, has been in the Hansen family for more than 30 years. The furniture has been displayed at furniture and home shows at other locations.

Assemblyman Glenn Pommer-ening of Wauwatosa had viewed the area. "I think the committee was there several times," he said.

Apparently referring to Outagamie County maneuvers aimed at upsetting the site selection, Knowles said he's "sorry this has developed into a political doneybrook because all that we have tried to do is to think of the educational needs of this area."

Decision 'Non-Political'
Stressing that the site selection decision was "non-political," the governor said that it was his understanding that the Larsen farm property on Green Bay's west side "is too small, and the cost of preparing it, due to hilly terrain, would make it impractical." Knowles said he visited the Shorewood Golf Course and Larsen farm sites. "I personally would have to say, from the standpoint of long-range development, that the Shorewood site is far superior."

Knowles discussed the possibility of an extensive vocational and technical school being located in Appleton. He said the most significant bill passed in the last session of the legislature was the Area Vocational School Bill. He said 50 per cent of college students attending liberal arts schools drop out during the first two years. "We must take a fresh look," the governor said, "at providing education that will supply the needs of these young people."

"If I get this program off the ground," he added, "I will consider this the greatest single accomplishment of my administration."

The Work of the Indian Bureau

The Senate Interior Committee has recommended unanimously that Robert LaFollette Bennett, the Oneida, Wis., native, be confirmed as the new Commissioner of Indian Affairs. But it took the occasion to render a scathing attack on the work of the bureau under the former commissioner, Philleo Nash, and his predecessors, and to instruct Bennett that he has a real job cut out for him to improve matters.

The committee declared that despite $1.5 billions appropriated for Indian programs in the last six years, despite a steady growth of bureau employees until they now number 22,000, and despite unlimited prosperity in the nation, "poverty and squalor continue to plague many reservations."

"That Indians remain at the bottom of the economic ladder, have the highest rate of unemployment, live in the poorest housing and suffer chronic poverty is a clear indictment of past programs and policies pursued by the bureau," the report continued.

Commissioner Nash had launched an effort to attract industry to Indian reservations, but the committee expressed the opinion that such a policy was heading in the wrong direction. Instead it believes vocational training programs and relocation of Indians off the reservations hold more hope for the future. It also said that the bureau should render every possible assistance to Indian tribes wishing to end their reservation status. "The committee can only conclude that the bureau is more interested in perpetuating its hold on Americans and their property than in bringing them into the mainstream of American life," the report concluded.

These expressions should be of particular interest to the Menominee Tribe. Certainly the federal government failed miserably to render them every possible assistance when they terminated reservation status. In fact they were left in such miserable state under federal wardship that heroic efforts by themselves and the state of Wisconsin are far from enough to establish Menominee County on any sort of sound economic footing.

If the committee, of which Senator Nelson is a member, is sincere in the belief expressed in its report, it will actively get behind the bill now in Congress to give Menominee County financial aid.

'...Not 'Yankee, go home!' ... Yank Ky, go home ...!!'

Viet Nam Sickness

The protest against American policy in Viet Nam—though protest is too kind a word—has reached its sickest level in Madison.

A 19-year-old girl, whose fiancé was killed in Viet Nam last May, has told Madison police an unbelievable tale of harassment. Last week, the girl received a telephone call leaving the impression that her fiancé might still be alive and directing her to go to the post office.

Opening a designated post office box, she found "horrible photos of Viet Nam."

Following the directions of a later telephone call, she went at night to a downtown Madison street. There, she was met by a band of young people, one of them covered with a red substance which was supposed to be blood.

"Here's your Viet Nam hero. Are you still proud of him?" she was asked.

The nation is involved in a legitimate debate over correct policy for Viet Nam, and democracy provides safeguards for those who dissent. But incidents like the one in Madison and the growing number of public draft card burnings serve only to harden the attitude that those who seek a change in policy are senseless kooks.

Public reaction from these incidents goes on the backs of those who are trying to change policy through legitimate debate, the force the kooks claim they are trying to help.

The Agency Shop Bill

The League of Wisconsin Municipalities has sent a timely reminder to the city and village halls of the state that one of the important issues before the legislature next month will be acceptance or rejection of the governor's veto of the so-called "agency shop" bill involving public employment.

The bill was put through the legislature last fall by an aggressive lobby of local public service unions, which in the intervening months have applied all of their considerable resources of political pressure to persuade legislators to override Governor Knowles' objections.

We have no illusions about the prospects. The chances favor the union representatives, in a divided legislature representing a delicately balanced partisan system in an election year.

Yet the studied objections of the League and others are worthy of serious attention. As the organization puts it, the proposal to require all employees in a local bargaining unit, whatever their wishes about union affiliation, to pay fees and dues to the union is a violation of some of the basic principles of civil service as we have known it in America. The civil service idea is that merit and competence should determine an employee's eligibility. Requiring him to pay dues, even against his will, as a condition to public employment is as extraneous as providing instructions about church or political party affiliation.

As the League notes also, such compulsion may also create new impediments for the recruitment of employees in key public service classifications including those of the licensed and regulated professions.

As it stands, this bold proposal would apply to municipal public service employment. But surely the precedent it will provide will be extended into state services later. Will we one day have a rule in Madison that would require the income tax assessor, or the assistant attorney general, or the professor of chemistry at the state university to pay dues to a union as a condition to his employment superimposed upon the requirement for demonstrated fitness for his work? Gov. Knowles acted wisely and with considerable political courage when he declined to sign this legislation.

On Thursday last, just as we were going to press, the Sentinel brought the President's Veto Message on the Civil Rights Bill. The Crescent had from that time until Saturday afternoon, before its paper was issued.

But did it contain such content? No!

We should have supposed an institution which makes such pretensions to FRESH news and great enterprise could have published a document of only three columns in length, when it had three days to set it up.

Now, just who publishes stale news, Mr. Crescent?

Methods of Assessing Homes Needs Change

Editor, Post-Crescent:

We hear a lot about discrimination on Civil Rights and voting, but what about discrimination in tax assessment valuations. I can remember when Phil LaFollette talked about this in his campaign sating Pewaukee as a flagrant example of discrimination. Nothing however, has been done to change this so far, so I believe it's about time that the electorate demand a change.

The present policy of assessing homes valued at $5,000 to $25,000 at 50 to 60 per cent of their value and then as the homes become more costly, $25 thousand to $200 or more thousands, the assessment drops to as low as 10 per cent in some of the state's communities. These expensive homes get the same services from their communities as the small homes such as fire, police protection, garbage and rubbish, schools and etc. Yet, we allow these places to pay a lot less to the cities for these services. In England they changed all this under Lloyd George way back in 1902. Yet we continue to allow this discrimination to continue in our country. On top of this, if one's furnace wears out and one applies for a permit to install a new one, up goes the valuation, but an expensive home can put in a new boiler and it's assessed at peanuts of the cost.

I've been told that the courts have ruled that no home can be assessed at more than such home can bring at private

Opinions of Others

Secrecy of Site Selection Main Cause of Present Controversy

From the Madison Capital Times

The Site Selection Committee that picked a Green Bay location for a new University of Wisconsin campus asked for the controversy that has now swirled up around its actions.

This newspaper criticized the committee headed by Assemblyman Glen Pommerening (R-Wauwatosa) for conducting its final deliberations in secret. Now, according to testimony brought forth at a discovery hearing here, the actual decision to name Green Bay was made at an earlier meeting four days before the "window dressing" meeting was held in the state capitol Feb. 25.

Outagamie County officials, whose claim to a site was rejected by the committee, are seeking to block the Green Bay site and while we will not venture a prediction on the outcome of the legal maneuvers, it is certain that much of the controversy could have been avoided if the selection committee had held its meetings in public.

That Pommerening, a leading Republican lawmaker, should insist on secrecy is not surprising, but it is dismaying to discover that three well-known public servants, including University of Wisconsin President Fred Harrington, should acquiesce without protest to the secret sessions. The other two public members of the committee were State Planner Walter Johnson and State Architect James E. Galbraith.

There is provision under the state's anti-secrecy laws for closed meetings, but the naming of a site offered to the state by competing communities deserved to be done in the full glare of public scrutiny.

The secret deliberation has clouded the Green Bay selection that drew editorial support from this newspaper when it was announced. Now it turns out that the public was gulled into thinking a decision was made at a Feb. 25 meeting when in actuality it had been concluded three days earlier on Feb. 21.

It is a shabby trick to play on the public.

Political Timetable Of Bronson LaFollette Has People Guessing

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — It is a fair surmise that no politician now on the Wisconsin political stage is the subject of more conversation and speculation among the political professionals than Bronson Cutting LaFollette, the young state attorney general who is serving a strategically important first term in one of the most important of the state elective offices.

Wyngaard

There is scarcely a capitol huddle of Democrats or Republicans that does not involve talk about the political timetable of the young scion of the state's most famous political family. The conclusion always is that the beginner who made a brilliant start in 1964 will inevitably try to follow in the steps of his distinguished forbears.

The typical question is when he will choose to do so. Not long ago there was some informal speculation that LaFollette might attempt the rise up the ladder in the elections of this year, as through a bid for the Democratic nomination for governor. But scarcely anyone believes the story. Almost surely his own instincts, and the counsel of his advisors, will be to remain in the relatively secure and conspicuous office of attorney general until a more favorable opportunity for the climb offers.

THE IMPRESSION

LaFollette is sophisticated enough to know that any comment about his future would be unwise. Yet the impression, for what it is worth, is that there is a tentative timetable in his private calculations. Some of the other principal figures on the Wisconsin stage are proceeding on that assumption.

One prominent Republican who is interested in the Republican nomination for governor after Gov. Knowles—presumably in 1968—remarked candidly to an associate the other day that he figures the Democratic nominee in that year will be the present attorney general. In Washington other members of the Wisconsin congressional delegation speak freely about the likelihood that if the attorney general is re-elected this year, and becomes governor in 1968, he will challenge Sen. William Proxmire in 1970. What the senior senator thinks of that possibility is not known, nor is he likely to say. But it requires no stretching of the imagination to guess that the thoroughly pragmatic senator has considered the timetable and its possibilities also. He doesn't overlook much relating to his career.

Practical politicians are not inclined to allow sentiment to interfere with their planning. But as it happens the Proxmire seat is the one that was formerly held by the senior LaFollette, the attorney general's father and grandfather, for a joint record of tenure that probably won't ever be equaled again in American politics.

THE RECORD

Bronson LaFollette won his first term two years ago by a margin that was stunning to the Republicans and was a remarkable feat when viewed from any perspective.

His winning margin, amounting to about 55 per cent of the votes polled, was the best scored by any statewide Democratic candidate and was exceeded only by the landslide given to the Democratic presidential ticket. There were qualifying factors, including the fact that the Republican incumbent made a comparatively weak campaign. Yet defeating an incumbent is a difficult thing under most circumstances, as Gov. Knowles discovered among others, and the LaFollette margin must stand as the outstanding statistic of Wisconsin politics in 1964.

There are realists in the Republican Party today who freely acknowledge that the scarcity of Republican contenders for the GOP nomination against LaFollette is a kind of tacit admission of LaFollette's prospects for this year.

Meanwhile the young chief legal counsel of the state maintains an energetic pace of stumping, while he runs his office without too much complaint or criticism even from professional opponents thus far. With a keen eye for prospective issues, he has also shown the aptitude for publicity that is one of the group characteristics of the latter-day liberal Democrats.

Strictly Personal

Appearance Image Is Most Important Today

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

In one of his books, Arthur Koestler tells about a friend of his who was given a Picasso drawing which she thought was a reproduction. She hung the picture in a rather inconspicuous place on her staircase.

Harris

A few months later, however, she learned that the drawing was an original—whereupon she quickly removed it to a place of honor over the fireplace mantel in the living room. As a valuable "original," it delighted and thrilled visitors who had not given it a second glance before.

Koestler then asked the question: had the picture changed? Yes and no—it had not changed artistically or physically, but it had symbolically. Its intrinsic merit was no different, but its importance as a status symbol had multiplied a hundredfold.

This is equivalent, of course, to the stories that turn up every decade or so, in which a Heifetz goes out into the street and plays the fiddle incognito for a few coins, and is unrecognized as a great concert violinist. In the dynamics of cultural snobbery (as in social snobbery), it is the appearance and not the reality that really matters.

For most of us live by names, and not by things. Americans, for instance, still believe that any titled Englishman is an aristocrat, although the British know that there is as much difference between one "Lord" and another as there is between a Duke and a dustman.

And most of us lack the ability to tell the real thing in any field outside our own. Many years ago, on the coast of France, there was held a "Charlie Chaplin" contest during a fiesta, in which the entrants made up like Chaplin and imitated his screen mannerisms. Unknown to the others, Chaplin himself entered the contest—and came off with only third prize!

Speaking of the screen, it is sadly true that many of the "sex symbols" of American filmdom have been actresses who did not feel sexy at all, but were frigid, depressed and suicidal in their emotional lives. The reality of the personalities had nothing at all to do with the image projected by vast publicity campaigns—which they soon grew to hate and despise as distortions of their true selves.

Ninety per cent of our judgments are based on appearance; this is why the "image industry" has become so important in manipulating public opinion. Today, for instance, we identify beards with "beatniks"; in our grandfathers' time, the beard was a symbol of dignity, of respectability, of all the bourgeois virtues so flouted by the bearded contingent of today.

Distinguishing between the substance and the image, between the appearance and the reality, may be the hardest task confronting the human race. In the case of Picassos, it is admittedly a job for an expert; but in the case of picking Presidents, or choosing mates, we often go just as frightfully wrong, taking the label for the contents.

Only Minor Changes Result From Communist Congress

Split Between Moscow, Peking Unsettled, Succession Unclear

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW
MOSCOW (AP) — For 55 hours spread over 11 days, they sat in soft chairs in the Kremlin and listened to speeches.

When it all ended and the 4,942 delegates to the Soviet Communist party's 23rd congress trooped out into the pleasant spring weather, things were about the same as before.

Leonid I. Brezhnev remained in control of the party, which controls the Soviet government. With only minor changes in the high command, both the strength of Brezhnev's grip and the possible order of succession were left unclear.

The dispute between Moscow and Peking remained irreconcilable. An offer to talk it over went unanswered by the Chinese, who boycotted the congress.

Unity Appeal

Soviet support for the Communist cause in Viet Nam remained strong. There was no attempt to line up visiting Communist delegations behind a Soviet unity appeal, which China calls a fraud.

Joseph V. Stalin remained in the background. But there were indications of a new, softer attitude toward the late dictator and of a new, tougher attitude toward culture and the Communist indoctrination of youth.

Economic promises remained big, with more consumer goods to come. A realistic admission of economic problems ended with blame on former Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and the arms race.

These, for lack of anything new or striking, were the main themes of a party meeting notable mainly for its quiet, orderly procedures. The emphasis was on a businesslike approach in contrast to Khrushchev's circus atmosphere at the last few congresses.

Lack of Agreement

The lack of new initiatives could have meant an inability within the collective leadership that succeeded Khrushchev to agree upon any changes of course.

And it could have meant that the leaders had encountered opposition while laying plans for the congress.

There were signs of opposition over trying to unify world Communist parties behind a Soviet-led movement to support Vietnamese Communists and also over any obvious rehabilitation of Stalin.

But there was no opposition within the congress itself. In theory a congress of the Soviet Communist party is held every four years — this one was five months late, without public explanation — to set party policies. The delegates represented the 12,471,000 party members.

In practice the policies were laid down by Brezhnev in a four-hour opening speech March 29. The speech reappeared in shortened form as a resolution summing up the congress when it closed Friday.

Opposition Ignores

Brezhnev asked the delegates to vote on the resolution. He did not bother to look around the vast Palace of Congresses for any opposition votes before announcing quickly that it had carried unanimously.

Brezhnev announced himself that he had been elected general secretary by the party's newly chosen Central Committee.

His title had been first secretary but it was changed to the name Stalin used in 1922-34. The ruling group for the 195-member Central Committee was changed in name from Presidium to Political Bureau, or Politburo, another Stalin era term.

In announcing the new list of Politburo members and party secretaries, Brezhnev followed a curious order. Its most likely explanation seemed to be the relative importance now given to the men.

Politburo Lineup

Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and President Nikolai V. Podgorny were named first in the Politburo after Brezhnev's own name. Then came Mikhail A. Suslov, an old Stalinist.

Suslov seemed to be the second-ranked party man next to Brezhnev. He was listed right after him in the secretariat. But he is not in good health and is not regarded as a possible successor.

The man named by Communist sources since December as the No. 2 party official, Alexander N. Shelepin, was dropped to seventh in Politburo listing but was listed after Brezhnev and viet delegates approved it in the presence of 86 foreign delegations, including ones from North Viet Nam, North Korea and the Viet Cong.

There had been signs for several months before the congress that Khrushchev's denunciations of Stalin were being played down. Communist sources explained this as simply trying to salvage the party's reputation from the criticism of its long-time leader.

Frighten Intellectuals

But the prospect of both a rehabilitation of Stalin's reputation and a return to his police control methods was real enough to frighten 25 leading party intellectuals into warning Brezhnev against them. The Italian Communist party said "we cannot accept it" that Stalin be given a better image.

Some sources thought this caused the leaders to back away from a direct reassessment of Stalin at the congress. Brezhnev avoided the subject.

But he apparently arranged for the first speaker after him to mention Stalin. While saying "there would be no return to the past," the speaker claimed pride in the Stalin era.

Then followed a parade of speakers calling for a crack-down on writers who criticize Soviet society, although Brezhnev himself balanced his remarks on culture. The general trend of remarks about culture by party professions was along the modernized Stalinist lines of the recent trial of two writers, Andrei D. Snysavsky and Yuli M. Daniel.

Remarks Censored

Resistance to the these lines showed up in the Ministry of Culture. Its head, Mrs. Yekaterina A. Furtsheva, spoke relatively mildly. The ministry's newspaper censored the tough remarks out of its daily congress diary.

The same speakers who called for a cultural crackdown also showed concern over Soviet youth. They have failed to become Communist believers to the extent party bosses would like, throwing into doubt the party's continued grip on this nation of 232 million persons.

Kosygin reported on economic prospects after Brezhnev had quickly surveyed the field. Some differences in their two approaches seemed to support theories among foreigners here of difficulties over economic problems.

The main announced purpose of the congress was to approve directives for the nation's 1966-70 economic development plan. After Kosygin had explained the outline which was made public Feb. 20, he said the plan itself would not be ready for four or five months — far along in the first year that it is supposed to cover.

Khrushchev Blamed

Many congress speakers blamed Khrushchev, without naming him, for causing economic difficulties with his erratic orders. Kosygin blamed agricultural failures, a failure of labor productivity to rise fast enough, more defense spending because of Viet Nam, and finally Khrushchev.

Under the ousted premier, "economically unjustified targets were set which could not be fulfilled," Kosygin said. So some targets for 1970 have been cut, he added.

The American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO, passed the party program adopted without handbills urging policemen to attend membership meetings next Wednesday.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cuban rail passengers soon will be traveling in air-conditioned coaches, Havana radio reports.

The government expects to buy 100 air-conditioned cars plus 80 locomotives from the Soviet Union, France and Great Britain to be avoided awkwardness.

Camping Negro Farmers Being Victimized

Economic, Political Revolutions Trap Homeless Workers

BY ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — The camp in last week of 90 Mississippi Negro farm hands in Lafayette Square, across from the White House, is a prime example of radical politicians using the civil rights cause for their own ends.

While deeply sympathetic to the plight of the impoverished, unemployed farm workers, federal officials — including President Johnson himself — simply cannot buckle under to the pressure tactics of the camp and maintain a semblance of governmental order. But by resisting their demands, Uncle Sam gives the New Left politicians fuel for their arguments that the federal government can't be trusted.

Herein lies the tragedy of the tent city that appeared, then disappeared across from the White House. Its homeless Negro inhabitants, victimized all their lives by the Mississippi plantation system, are now the subject of a different kind of victimization, this time from radical politicians. For the long trip from Mississippi to Washington accomplished absolutely nothing for them.

They are trapped in the squeeze of two revolutions, one economic, the other political. The economic revolution has drastically reduced the need for cotton plantation workers. The political revolution, opening up voter rolls to Negroes, makes it expedient for Mississippi whites to speed Negro migration out of the state. Thus, white paternalism is gone, and the farm hands are without homes and jobs.

Goes Too Far

The main battle against this has been directed by the Delta Ministry of the National Council of Churches — which has conducted excellent programs but sometimes, in the desperate search for a cure, goes to self-defeating extremes. One such extreme was the live-in by these same unemployed farm hands this winter at the Greenville (Miss.) Air Force Base.

This was followed by a late-February request to the OEO from Negro groups, sponsored by the Delta Ministry, for Federally-constructed housing. The OEO explained it was not in the housing business, but would serve as agent for the farm hands in seeking help from other federal agencies.

That wasn't good enough. On March 31, the OEO received a wire that the farm hands would arrive the next day for their camp-in. In a meeting with OEO officials on April 1, representatives of the Negro groups again were informed that under the law, they could not be given houses by OEO.

Over that weekend, radical politicians sprouted in Lafayette Square along with the tents. Marion Barry, Washington leader of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), was there. So were officials of the SNCC-affiliated, Mississippi Freedom Democratic party.

Particularly significant was the deep interest in the tent city project by the Institute for Policy Studies, an intellectual arsenal for the New Left. Marcus Raskin, a co-director of the Institute best known for fervent opposition to President Johnson's Viet Nam war policy, suddenly popped up at Lafayette Square as spokesman for the Mississippi Negroes.

More Demonstrations

Over that weekend of April 2 and 3, radical politicians told the farm hands that the Johnson administration was not to be trusted and that the refusal of OEO to supply housing was dictated to the White House by segregationist Sen. James O. Eastland of Mississippi. The only hope, they said, was demonstrations and more demonstrations.

The tragedy is that this wholly misses the point. Emergency housing is not the answer. The real problem of the exploited farm hands is jobs to replace the work in the cotton fields. There is now no sign of work anywhere in the Delta.

Accordingly, the answer may have to be relocation. The worst ghetto of the North may actually be preferable to the Mississippi Delta. Federal officials and liberal congressmen now hope relocation can be accomplished so as to minimize hardship on victims of farm mechanization.

White supremacist politicians of Mississippi, though they want the Negroes to migrate, aren't about to help with their relocation. Nor do the New Left radicals seem as interested in a long term solution as they are in the mechanics of protest. The end product is a heart-wrenching round trip between Mississippi and tent city by the Negro farm hands, victimized politically by both Left and Right.

War Could be Big Disaster in LBJ's Career

President Doesn't Understand Working Of Vietnamese Mind

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson had it pretty much his own way up till now. But now what he faces in Viet Nam may be the greatest disaster of his political career.
At home things were going well. The country was prosperous. He kept putting the heat on Congress to pass his legislation and on business and labor to keep wages and prices down.
It meant a lot of bone-aching work, of course. Telephone calls from dawn till midnight; conferences at the White House day and night; the endless attention to details.
But this was all duck soup for him. In one way or another he had been doing the same thing for years as the Democrats' majority leader in the Senate before he became vice president then president.

Way of Life

In short, it was a way of life with him and his big advantage was that he understood the American mind.

And even with Viet Nam, despite some intense criticism and demonstrations at home, he had broad public support for the administration's policy of using U.S. money and troops and planes to keep the Viet Cong from taking over South Viet Nam.

This was going well, too. And, further, he was backing the military government headed by Premier Nguyen Cao Ky. There didn't seem to be a cloud in the sky. Then the sky fell in, pulled down by the Buddhists.

They have a different kind of mind, unfamiliar to Johnson, and bit by bit, by marches, riots, protests, and denunciations they began to topple the government headed by Ky.

Leadership in Danger

The Johnson administration's aim was said to be the survival of the military regime, with or without Ky. But as time passed the whole military leadership seemed in danger of being thrown out.

No matter what it did or tried to do behind the scenes, in public the administration tried to put on the appearance of great calm, even detachment, with one State Department official saying: "Our feeling is that the solution to the political problems in Viet Nam is something for the Vietnamese themselves to work out."

But if the North Vietnamese Communists have worked out a deal with the South Vietnamese Buddhists to destroy the present government and make way for the Communists, this is more than just a political squabble between some Vietnamese in the south.

If the Buddhists get control, on against underground Viet Cong positions and as a psychological weapon against enemy morale.

Flying over the weather at 40,000 feet, the B52s usually strike in waves of 10 planes. They can't be heard from the ground, and the enemy doesn't know he is being attacked until the bombs come tumbling down on him.

The multimillion dollar bombers, pride of the Strategic Air Command, were designed originally to carry nuclear weapons for massive retaliation against an aggressor before the development of accurate ocean-spanning intercontinental ballistic missiles.

Modify Payload

Pleased with their successful use in a guerrilla war, the Defense Department recently embarked on a program of modification expanding the payload of the bombers from 38,250 pounds to 60,000 pounds. They will be able to carry 84 of the 500-pound bombs inside and 24 of the 750-pound bombs under their wings.

The Defense Department acknowledged in Washington that the U.S. air war in the south had been temporarily curtailed because of a shortage of bombs.

Assistant Secretary of Defense Arthur S. Sylvester said that the political troubles in Da Nang had forced the diversion of ships with ordnance to other unloading areas.

Sylvester also said another factor in the "temporary reduction in sorties within South Viet Nam" was that the South Vietnamese "are mounting fewer attacks requiring air support."

This also seems due to the political situation.

A U.S. spokesman in Saigon reported Monday that American planes carried out 300 missions over South Viet Nam Sunday compared with the usual total of 450-500.

The Viet Cong activity reported by Vietnamese officials Monday night was a hit-and-run attack on a police substation on the outskirts of Saigon, near the whether or not they turn the government over to the Communists at once, they may ask the Americans to leave. And, if they do, it is certain the Communists will get control for the South Vietnamese among themselves couldn't stand them off.

Johnson can't be sure he knows how to deal with the Buddhists or how they think, for they don't think like Americans. For the Americans, to be asked to leave, after the billions of U.S. dollars spent there and the many U.S. lives lost there, such a request would in effect be an American defeat and an American embarrassment without parallel.

Johnson would have a hard time living it down. It undoubtedly would be used against him if he ran for re-election in 1968. And it might cause desperate damage to the Democrats in this year's congressional elections.

Rusk Disputes DeGaulle Claim On NATO Pact

of the harshest comments yet made by a high U.S. official publicly on De Gaulle's decision to withdraw French forces from NATO and put an end to U.S. and other foreign military bases established on French territory under NATO-connected agreements.

To De Gaulle's claim that the U.S.-French military agreements are obsolete, Rusk replied:

Strikes at Heart

"Most of those military agreements by their terms continue for the life of the North Atlantic Treaty to which France says it intends to continue to adhere. This thesis strikes at the very heart of the sanctity of international agreements."

To the French contention that the Soviet threat to Western Europe has receded, Rusk said: "If the threat against Western Europe has diminished in the last 17 years, it has diminished because NATO stood as a firm barrier to Soviet ambitions. As late as 1961-1962, we were in the midst of a major crisis over Berlin that threatened war."

"Reform" NATO

To a question whether De Gaulle's proposal for "reform" of NATO are out of line with U.S. views, Rusk said, "Instead of offering proposals for the reform of NATO, the French government has chosen to announce its decision to draw back from NATO; without consulting its allies in any serious way."

$1.2 Million Tax Lien Filed on Gambling Count

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A lien for nearly $1.2 million was filed against two Milwaukee brothers Monday for what federal authorities said was unpaid taxes on gambling income.

The tax lien was filed against Joseph Piscione and Charles Piscione, 49, who were found guilty last year of not paying a federal excise tax on gambling business.

Edward C. Gunther, chief of the Internal Revenue Service's intelligence division here, said the lien represented a 10 per cent excise tax on gambling grosses from mid-1961 to mid-1964.

Such a lien would indicate a gross of nearly $12 million for the three-year period.

Married Catholic Priest Seeks Guest House for Others

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — A Roman Catholic priest who took a wife says he will try to establish a guest house for married priests.

Anthony Girandola, 40, says an estimated total of 5,000 U.S. priests have left the clergy to take wives.

"I am tired of hiding the fact that I am a priest," said Girandola. "If the church wishes to excommunicate me for publicizing this fact, let it do so."

Girandola left Westerly, R.I., where he had worked as a newsman, about two weeks ago.

Charles W. Utter, editor of the Daily Westerly Sun, said he was surprised to hear that Girandola is a priest.

"He had a wonderful touch with a human interest story," said Utter. "He was a good man, and I hated to lose him."

He said Girandola's wife suffered from asthma and this prompted their move south.

Girandola said the church refrom Wisconsin policy holders premiums totaling $83,516. By 1961, the amount had grown to $208,240.

In arguing the test case, Ministers contended that if Wisconsin took regulatory authority of nonresident firms other states would do the same and drive mail order insurance out of business.

Counsel for the Minneapolis firm said mail order companies make up about two per cent of the insurance industry in the country, and about half of the firms were of the commercial traveler type.

Because these firms operate by mail and have no agents, they are able to cut the cost of insurance. Wisconsin law would force the companies to employ local agents.

Tanker Arrives At S. Africa Port

LONDON (AP) — One Greek tanker arrived at the South African port of Durban today and another sat at an unloading dock in the Mozambique port of Beira. It still was not known whether their oil cargoes would go to Rhodesia.

The tanker Manuela, carrying 12,000 tons of oil, entered the Durban port area after picking up a pilot and lay off the docks awaiting space to berth. The Manuela went on to Durban after the British frigate Berwick intercepted the Greek-registered ship when it seemed headed for Portuguese-held Beira, which has an oil pipeline to rebellious Rhodesia.

Wausau Psychiatrist Refuses to Pay Part Of Taxes Going to War

WAUSAU (AP) — Psychiatrist Karl M. Kline said Monday he was refusing to pay part of his 1965 federal income tax in protest of American military involvement in Viet Nam.

"I don't know the outcome but am prepared to meet it," said Dr. Kline.

The Wausau psychiatrist said, "I will leave the money in my bank account. I realize you can't beat this thing but it is a matter of expressing my feelings. I am a Quaker and am against war, but I feel particularly that our action in Viet Nam is wrong. And this is my way of protesting."

take over the northern city from dissident troops.

Troops Airlifted

Two battalions — 1,078 men — and 10 tanks were airlifted back to Saigon in Vietnamese planes from their tent city at the U.S.-Vietnamese Da Nang air base, a Vietnamese army spokesman said. A third battalion left earlier for what the government said was an assignment against the Communists elsewhere in the 1st Corps.

Despite the departure of the marines, 5,000 persons, including 500 Vietnamese soldiers and more than 100 armed students, marched in a new antigovernment demonstration in the streets of Da Nang. The students were members of a "struggle committee" formed in Hue, another center of Buddhist unrest.

The students carried U.S. canteens, grenades and pistols issued to them by Vietnamese officers.

They displayed banners reading: "The United States has violated our autonomy by supporting the Ky government which is not chosen by the Vietnamese people" and "America stays here because it wants to, not at the bidding of our people."

He said in some cases priests have been allowed to marry but they are forbidden from practicing the ministry and must keep their married status secret.

Girandola reported that the church has required priests who have broken their vows of celibacy to leave any area in which they are known as priests.

A native of Hartford, Conn., Girandola's last ministry was at the Shrine of Sacred Heart in Baltimore from 1963 to 1964. He attended St. Bernard's Major Seminary in Rochester, N.Y., and has worked as a cashier, waiter and advertising agency copy writer.

Guest House
Girandola and his wife, Lorraine, have a four-month-old son, Anthony Jr.

Girandola said he would solicit funds for his guest house and also will look for a place of assembly where he can hold services. He added that he saw no reason why he should not continue to do a priest's work.

Priests are not trained for work outside the church and need help readjusting if they marry and must look for other employment, Girandola said.

fied with Ky as a result of President Johnson's meeting with him at Hawaii.

Until Monday, top U.S. officials were reporting that the political crisis, which began a month ago, was having no particular effect on the prosecution of the war against the Viet Cong.

Undersecretary of State George W. Ball said in a television interview Sunday that he would not regard South Viet Nam's internal trouble as "anything that needs to be deplored so long as it doesn't interfere with the conduct of the military operations."

B52 Attacks

Monday the Defense Department confirmed reports from Saigon of what was called a temporary decline in bombing operations against the Viet Cong Monday night, however, big Guam-based B52 bombers hit targets in North Viet Nam for the first time.

Other informants reported more generally that the political unrest was beginning to limit ground military operations. Presumably this meant that the number of South Vietnamese forces available for action against the Communists was being reduced to some degree.

by Ky's assignment of units to try to control civil strife.

The Communists, officials say, have been suffering severe military blows for many months now and in the U.S. view it is urgently important to maintain the pressure.

Object of Pressure

The objective of the military pressure is to break the Viet Cong will to fight by convincing the leaders and the rank and file that they cannot possibly win.

Conversely, as authorities here see the situation, the Communist forces and their North Vietnamese allies and supporters are sustained in continuing the struggle by the belief that they can win, their belief being based primarily on two political considerations.

One is that in spite of the great military strength which the United States has thrown into the war, South Viet Nam will be torn apart by its own political factions.

The other basis of the Communists' belief in eventual victory is said to be their view that the American people and government eventually will tire of the conflict and its political trials and will make peace on terms favorable to the Viet Cong and North Viet Nam.

Why buy a low-priced car when you can get a high-priced car for the same money?

Especially when you can get that big Catalina there. With a wheelbase that's a good two inches longer, interiors a lot roomier and a 389 cu. in. V-8 out front that gives you at least 50 more standard horsepower. Along with typically Pontiac virtues like the bold, split-grille styling, Wide Track ride and handling, and a resale value the record books show is consistently up there with the leaders. And, of course, a package of seven standard safety items like padded visors and dash. Come in and look over our Catalina. Drive it. Price it. And then you'll know what we mean when we say if you're spending about $3000 for a new car and not getting a Pontiac, something's wrong.

Bread:
fine as the best and

Those clever Kroger bakers have a new way to make bread! Instead of one loaf at a time, a continuous mix of dough goes into the pans—then on to the ovens. Almost without hands!

You get the superior flavor and extra protein of hard winter wheat in a loaf that's soft, light, pure white. And no holes ever! Stays fresh longer, too. Down to the last crumb.
